Chancellor's Message

As we share the 2015-16 SULC Catalog with you, we hope that you will find it to be a valuable resource to guide you through your matriculation at the Southern University Law Center. In it you will find information about our admissions requirements, tuition and fees, degree course requirements, financial aid, policies and procedures, as well as an introduction to a variety of courses and a capable and caring law faculty and staff.

We hope these courses, required and elective, will arouse you to delve into a course of study that will not only provide you with the intellectual knowledge and skills that will prepare you for a law degree and admission to the bar, but also leadership in the legal arena and community at-large. We know that the faculty and staff will provide encouragement, wise counsel, and valuable mentoring, as you are challenged to broaden your knowledge and be disciplined in your learning.

SULC prides itself on its mission, "Providing Access and Opportunity," since its inception in 1947. Our goal is to become the number 1 law school for "Access and Opportunity" in the nation. With nearly 4,000 alums who will attest to the role that this Law Center has played in transforming their lives and creating opportunities for them that they never imagined, SULC will continue to provide a superb legal education. It will do so with excellence in classroom teaching and technology, experiential learning, studies abroad, and unique public service programs.

Through this program of legal education you will be transformed into a practice-ready, lawyer with analytical skills that will set you on the road to becoming an outstanding lawyer leader.

Students will find that tremendous opportunities comport with our longstanding motto, "Seriousness of Purpose." The time you spend at SULC is perhaps as the most important time investment that you will ever make. When you are serious about this time investment, you will reap the proper return, which is a law degree and admission to the bar.

We believed that when you leave SULC, you will be prepared to be a 21st century lawyer-leader.

Best wishes for successful law studies at SULC. We are delighted about your interest and your pursuit of access and opportunity.

Mission

In recent years, the Law Center has moved with unprecedented speed in expanding services to students, alumni, and the community. Although we value our many accomplishments, we still remain steadfast in our mission to provide sound scholarship and opportunity for all persons interested in careers in the field of law.

Seeking Excellence

The mission and tradition of the Law Center is to provide access and opportunity to a diverse group of students from underrepresented racial, ethnic, and socio-economic groups to obtain a high quality legal education with special emphasis on the Louisiana civil law. Additionally, our mission is to train a cadre of lawyers equipped with the skills necessary for the practice of law and for positions of leadership in society.

The mission of the Law Center is consistent with the rich heritage of the Southern University System. The Law Center stresses legal education of high quality for qualified students from diverse backgrounds.

The Southern University Law Center is proud of the tradition established by the original School of Law—to provide quality legal education commensurate with high professional standards. This legacy has inspired the Law Center to develop as a progressive, innovative institution that prepares students for success in all law-related segments of society. Excellence in legal education is the resounding goal of the Law Center. Our faculty is totally committed to challenging and inspiring students to achieve far beyond all expectations.

The vision that compels the Law Center to seek excellence in every aspect of its program also fosters an environment that stimulates the intellectual processes and promotes professional development.

Overview

Fully Accredited

In September 1947, the Southern University School of Law was officially opened. After 38 years of operation as a School of Law, the Southern University Board of Supervisors redesignated the Southern University School of Law as the Southern University Law Center, effective July 1, 1985.

The Southern University Law Center is dedicated to offering students from diverse backgrounds a quality legal education in civil and common law that will prepare them to be highly effective, competent, and ethical professionals who possess a deep sense of community. The Law Center reaffirms its historical commitment of providing legal educational opportunities to under-represented racial, ethnic, and socio-economic groups in the pursuit of the juris doctor degree.

Though the program of study's emphasis is given to the substantive and procedural law of Louisiana, with its French and Spanish origins, Anglo-American law is well integrated into the curriculum. The civil law system of Louisiana offers law students a unique educational opportunity. The program of instruction examines the historical background of the civil law system and its development in the United States. Fundamental differences in method and approach and the results reached in the two systems are analyzed.

Students are trained in the art of advocacy, legal research, legal theory and social purposes of legal principles. Techniques to strengthen the students' abilities in legal reasoning are an integral part of the educational objectives of the Law Center. Students are instructed in the ethics of the legal profession with emphasis on the professional responsibility of the lawyer to society. The program of study prepares students for varied career opportunities for lawyers in government service, private enterprise, and non-traditional legal-related professions.

The Law Center is fully accredited by the American Bar Association, the Supreme Court of Louisiana, and the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is also approved by the Veterans Administration for the training of eligible veterans.

The Law Center is located in Baton Rouge, the capital of Louisiana. With a population of 400,000, this seat of state government includes numerous state agencies and courts. As a hub of legal activity, Baton Rouge offers law students many opportunities to participate in state government through interaction with the legislature, state agencies and private law firms.

Baton Rouge, the fifth largest port in the United States, is located along the Mississippi River in culturally rich South Louisiana—known throughout the world for its excellence in food, its fine music, and its enjoyable life-styles. New Orleans, America's picturesque European, particularly French, city, which is a tourist's delight, is only 80 miles away. Every year New Orleans, along with many other Louisiana cities and towns, hosts a number of popular festivals attracting thousands from around the world.

Housed in A. A. Lenoir Hall, named for the first dean of the original School of Law, the Law Center facility consists of administrative and faculty offices, classrooms, study areas and office space for student organization, lounges and restrooms for faculty, staff, and students; seminar rooms; a law library, with a computer-assisted learning laboratory; and a moot courtroom. The Law Center building is located on the main campus of the Southern University System.

The Law Center occupies 98,400 square feet, which includes a 13,400 square-foot North Wing added to the facilities in 2009. During the 2010-11 academic year, a Law Center's Clinical Education Annex was opened next door to the main hall. The new space allows in-house clinics to operate using a law firm model and facilitates student and faculty collaboration across clinics. The entire Law Center is wireless and the moot courtroom is equipped with a state-of-the-art audio and video system for closed circuit telecast into four large classrooms.

Degree Programs

Mission-Driven Institution

The Southern University Law Centers offers legal training to students in pursuit of the juris doctor degree. The Law Center shares with other American Bar Association-accredited institutions the goal of producing attorneys who are well prepared for entry into the legal profession. In the design and implementation of a curriculum to attain this goal, the Law Center, like the other Louisiana law schools, has given particular attention to the Civil Law.

The Law Center's unique mission and circumstances have created distinctive curriculum challenges. While the Law Center maintains curriculum objectives similar to those of other J.D. programs, with a special emphasis given to the Louisiana practice, it serves a student population that is more diverse in racial, socioeconomic, and educational backgrounds than most law schools throughout the United States.

J.D. Program

The 90-hour curriculum typically takes three to four years to complete. Students must successfully complete 73 hours of required courses and may choose from among more than 50 electives for the remaining 17 hours of course work. Students may attend school as full-time students or as part-time students. Classes are offered both during the day and in the evening. Evening classes are scheduled from 5:30 to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Students who enroll in the full-time program will take 12 to 16 credit hours each semester. Students who enroll in a part-time program will take 8 to 11 hours each semester. Evening students enjoy the same full-time tenured faculty, opportunities for academic support and other services, and involvement in student activities as day students.

The Law Center requires that students complete at least six residency units before receiving their degrees. Full-time students who take 12-16 credit hours will receive one unit of residency credit for each semester in attendance. A part-time student who takes 8-11 credit hours will receive $\frac{3}{4}$ of a residency credit for each semester in attendance. Courses taken in the summer do not count toward the residency requirement. A student who has earned at least a 3.0 grade point average overall and a 3.0 grade point average in required courses may petition the faculty to graduate after earning five residency credits.

Students who matriculate in a part-time program may transfer to the full-time program after successfully completing 46 credit hours.

Juris Doctor and Master of Public Administration Dual Degree Program

A dual degree program is offered by the Southern University Law Center, in cooperation with the Southern University A&M College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. The J.D./M.P.A. dual degree program requires 120 hours of academic credit and can be completed in four years. A minimum of 84 hours of law coursework and 36 hours of public administration coursework are required for graduation. The program provides students with the knowledge, skills, and background necessary to function in law and the public policy arena. Graduates of the program can expect to be sought out as advisers to public policy makers and government agencies that develop and administer local, state, and federal policies. The J.D./M.P.A. dual degree program requires 120 hours of academic credit and can be completed in four years. A minimum of 84 hours of law coursework and 36 hours of public administration coursework are required for graduation. To accommodate scheduling conflicts, some students may have to take summer school courses to complete the dual degree program in four years. The successful candidate of this dual program will be awarded a Juris Doctor degree from the Law Center and an M.P.A. degree from Southern University-Baton Rouge.

Separate applications to both the Law Center and the Graduate School of Southern University-Baton Rouge must be made. (See other requirements on pages 55 and 56 of this catalog.)

More information on this program can be found in the Southern University-Baton Rouge Catalog, or you may contact the SU Graduate School dean, (225) 771-5390, or the dean of the Mandela School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs, (225) 771-3092.

Certificate in Public Law

Students who concentrate their studies in public law may earn a certificate in this demanding field. To do so, a student must complete the 90 credit hours required for the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree, including Constitutional Law I and II, and satisfy all requirements for graduation. Additionally, a student must complete 15 hours from the public law curriculum (see page 51), maintaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average in these courses.

Students who have met or who will meet the requirements for the Certificate in Public Law shall notify the Office of Records and Enrollment within the first two weeks of their last semester of study.

Summer Abroad Program

A summer abroad program in London, England, is offered by the Southern University Law Center. Approximately 40 students each year will have the opportunity to earn six credit hours while savoring the thousand-year-old roots of America's legal heritage. During their six weeks in London, students will visit some or all of the following: Chancery Lane, The Law Society, Inns of Court, Royal Courts of Justice, Central Criminal Court (the Old Bailey), House of Commons, and House of Lords.

The program is limited to students in American law schools who have successfully completed one year of study. Students of law schools other than Southern University Law Center must submit a letter of good standing from their dean or registrar, together with proof of successful completion of one year of law studies.

More information on this program can be found at the Summer Abroad web site, <http://www.sulc.edu/summerabroad.htm>.

Library Services

The Oliver B. Spellman Law Library contains more than 460,000 volumes, 1,000,000 microfiche, 35,000 rolls of microfilm, and 1,000 law reviews. The library offers research assistance and reference service to students, faculty, and the public.

Heart of the Law School

Its collection adequately supports the curriculum and conforms to the standards of the American Bar Association. Both the federal and Louisiana state governments have designated the SULC Spellman Law Library as an official depository for government documents.

A complete collection of Louisiana legal materials, including Continuing Legal Education materials of the Louisiana Bar Association, is provided in the library. Although library acquisitions reflect the civil law tradition of Louisiana, sufficient materials for research in the common law and a substantial number of basic legal reference works are available. Media equipment in the library includes copying machines for printed materials and microforms.

The Law Center subscribes to Westlaw, Lexis/Nexis, Fastcase, Making of Modern Law, and U.S. Supreme Court Records & Briefs digital collections. Training sessions are provided for faculty and students in the proper use of these computerized legal research systems.

The library occupies a more than 30,000 square ft. area, which includes study rooms, two computer labs, and a civil rights and human rights collection.

Cooperative arrangements with the Louisiana State University Law Center Library provide access to one of the largest Anglo-American and civil law resource collections in the southern region. Interlibrary loans from other libraries can be made through the Spellman Law Library.

Admissions

Part of the Student Services Team

Southern University
Law Center
Baton Rouge, Louisiana

While the Law Center does not prescribe any specific pre-legal preparation, it strongly recommends a foundation consisting of such courses as English, public speaking, French, Spanish, accounting, psychology, logic, mathematics, and other analytical courses.

The objective of pre-legal training should be to provide the student with the necessary general education to compete successfully in the professional study of law. The applicant should acquire a mastery of the English language.

Admission Standards

Qualitative Requirements: Applicants must have earned a scholastic average of at least “C” in courses of substantive academic content and received an acceptable score on the Law School Admission Test (LSAT). Admission will be granted to a select number of qualified applicants.

Quantitative Requirements: An applicant for admission to candidacy for the Juris Doctor degree must have received a bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university. An applicant who has been excluded from another law center/school or who fails to present a satisfactory scholastic record may not be considered for admission.

Other Factors: All applications are reviewed by a special committee. Among the factors considered by the committee, in addition to those stated above, are cumulative undergraduate grade point average, work experience or military service, and past pursuits. Social and economic background, ability to analyze and write well as demonstrated by the written portion of the LSAT and the personal statement, and extracurricular activities are also considered. An applicant must have good moral character. If there is any indication that an applicant lacks good moral character, the burden is upon the applicant to prove through clear and convincing evidence that he or she possesses the requisite good moral character to be considered for admission. The Law Center reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant who does not fulfill this requirement.

The Law Center may at any time limit admission of non-resident applicants to 20 percent of the first-year class.

Admission with Advanced Standing

A student who has successfully completed work at an ABA-accredited law school and who otherwise meets the requirements for admission to the first year class at SULC may be admitted to SULC with advanced standing.

A student seeking advanced standing must apply for admissions to SULC using the normal admissions process, including the Candidate Assembly Service. In addition, a transferring student must submit an official transcript from the student’s law school, a letter of good standing from the dean of the school, a letter from a professor of the law school from which he/she is transferring, and copies of the catalog course descriptions and syllabi for all courses for which the applying student is requesting credit. The Southern University Law Center reserves the right to refuse credits, in whole or in part, or to withdraw credit for prior work. A maximum of 30 credit hours completed at another law school may be accepted for credit at SULC.

Students who have been excluded from other law schools because of scholastic deficiencies will not be admitted with advanced standing.

Early Law School Admission Program (Three Plus Three Program)

The Law Center in conjunction with Southern University Baton Rouge has begun an Early Law School Admission Program to admit exceptional students into law studies from the Baton Rouge campus prior to completion of their undergraduate degrees. The program is being coordinated in the Law Center and the Nelson Mandela School of Public Policy.

Application Procedures

Students beginning the study of law are admitted only in the fall semester. The following information and materials must be filed with the Law Center Admission office:

Formal Application: Applications may be requested from the Law Center Admission office or online at www.sulc.edu. Applications, together with current official transcripts and letters of recommendation, should be filed before the end of the fall semester of the year prior to admission. Any application received later than February 28 for the Day Division and May 1 for the Evening Division will not be processed for admission in August.

Application Fee: A $25 nonrefundable application fee will be required of all persons seeking admission.

Official Transcripts: Transcripts showing credits earned at a college or university must be forwarded to the Law Center. If courses of study in a college or university are taken after the application is submitted, official supplemental transcripts must be submitted to cover the subsequent study. First year students will not be permitted to register for the fall semester without producing an official transcript showing degree(s) earned before enrolling in the Law Center.

The Law School Admissions Test: All applicants are required to take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) prior to admission. LSAT and LSDAS information may be obtained from any law school, university campus testing center, or from the Law School Admission Council. Applicants can register for the test online, by telephone or by obtaining a paper registration form from LSAC. To use LSAC's online registration service, go to www.LSAC.org, or call (215) 968-1001.

The Law School Admission Council (LSAC) provides two important and primary services to law school applicants: The Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS) and the LSAT. The Southern University Law Center requires the 12-month subscription service with LSDAS. Fees for these services may vary from year to year.

The results of the examination are certified to all schools selected by the applicant. The examination is administered four times a year at designated centers throughout the United States.

Confirmation

The applicant is responsible for submission of supporting documents to the LSAC on or before the deadline of February 28 for the Day Division and May 1 for the Evening Division. Notification of the committee's decision will be mailed to the applicant.

Immunization Policy

An applicant accepted for admission must submit proof of immunization to the Law Center prior to registration in accordance with Louisiana Revised Statute 17:170.

Seat Deposit

Applicants who have been accepted for admission must pay a $50 seat deposit to secure a seat in the incoming first-year class. The seat deposit amount is subject to change and is non-refundable.

Registration

All students are expected to present themselves for registration in accordance with the registration procedures established for the current term as recorded in the Law Center Academic Calendar and the Schedule of Courses bulletin.

Registration after the official period in the calendar and schedule shall be by special permission granted by the Chancellor. Students registering after the official period designated for registration will be charged a late fee of $100. The deadline for enrolling in the Law Center for the fall and spring semesters shall be the sixth day of instruction. The Administration is committed to this policy and will enforce it strictly.

It is the responsibility of each student to ensure that he or she is properly registered. No credit will be given for any course in which a student is not officially registered, even though the student may have attended class and taken the exam. Furthermore, a failing grade of “F” will be recorded for any student who has not officially dropped a course, even though the student did not attend class and did not take the exam.

A student will be permitted to attend class only after completion of official registration.

Cross-Registration

Under a cross-registration agreement between the Southern University Law Center and the Louisiana State University Paul M. Hebert Law Center, eligible students enrolled in either school may enroll in one course per semester at the other school. Students may earn up to a total of 12 hours through cross registration. Cross registration grades will be posted as pass/fail and count against the 16 hours of visiting credits students are permitted to take while continuing to meet residency requirements.

To be eligible to cross register, students must successfully complete 24 hours of course work at the Southern University Law Center and be in good standing. Full-time students must enroll for at least 12 credit hours, part-time students must enroll for at least eight credit hours, and students enrolled during the summer must enroll for at least four credit hours at the Southern University Law Center. Only those students who meet one of the following exceptions may cross register for courses that are required for graduation at SULC.

- 1) A student who has taken and failed a required course at the Southern University Law Center may cross register to take the failed course at LSU during the next following semester or session if the course is not offered at SULC that semester or session.
- 2) A student who will have otherwise met all of the requirements for graduation in a given semester may cross register for a course required for graduation if that course is not offered at SULC during their final semester before graduation.

A student who completes coursework at LSU may receive course credit only for those courses in which the student receives a grade of “C” or better on a letter grade scale or 2.0 or better on a 4.0 grade scale. A grade that meets the requirements above will be recorded on the student’s SULC transcript as a pass. A grade that does not meet these requirements will be posted on the student’s transcript as a fail.

Applications for cross registration are available from the Office of Records and Registration, and must be approved by the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs at the time of registration.

Add & Drop

Students may add or drop courses within the period stated in the Law Center Academic Calendar or schedule, through Banner.

Charges created by adding and/or dropping courses after fees are paid will be posted to the student's account. Check your Banner account summary daily.

Please note the following exceptions:

1. First-year students cannot drop any classes.
2. Cross-registration courses cannot be dropped on Banner. They must be dropped at the visiting school.
3. Classes dropped after the 14th day of class during the fall and spring semesters or 7th day of class during summer session are noted with a "W" or "WF" on transcripts.
4. Full-time students cannot drop below 12 hours and remain full-time. Students, full-time or part-time, cannot drop below eight hours and remain enrolled in school.
5. Part-time students must complete 46 semester hours before transferring to the Day Division.

Students Visiting Other Schools

A student may receive a maximum of 16 credit hours for coursework completed at another law school as a visiting student.

To be eligible to take a course at another ABA accredited law school, a student must have completed 24 credit hours at SULC and be in good standing. A student will not receive credit for visiting at another law school on any dates that coincide, in whole or in part, with an SULC academic semester or session in which the student is otherwise enrolled.

A student who wishes to enroll at another law school shall complete an Application to Visit another Law School, available from the SULC Office of Records and Registration, no fewer than four weeks prior to the commencement of the pertinent Academic Session. No credit will be given for any coursework completed at another school without the prior approval of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Students should be forewarned that while some courses of study may meet the academic quality and integrity standards of SULC, there may be others that fall below the standards of this institution and will not be approved. The Law Center's previous approval of a student's participation in a course is not an assurance that the law Center will continue to approve the requested course.

Visiting at International Law Schools

A student may receive a maximum of 16 credit hours for coursework completed as a visiting student at a law school outside of the United States.

To be eligible to enroll as a visiting student at an international law school a student must have completed a minimum of 24 credit hours at SULC and be in good standing. A student will not receive credit for visiting at an international law school on any dates that coincide, in whole or in part, with an SULC academic semester or session in which the student is otherwise enrolled.

A student who wishes to enroll in an international law school shall complete an Application to Visit Another Law School no fewer than four weeks prior to the commencement of the pertinent Academic Session. All applications must be approved by the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Students should be forewarned that while some courses of study may meet the academic quality and integrity standards of SULC, there may be others that fall below the standards of this institution and will not be approved. The Law Center's previous approval of a student's participation in a course is not an assurance that the Law Center will continue to approve the requested course.

Accelerated Academic Sessions

A student may receive a maximum of 4 elective credit hours through an Accelerated Academic Session offered by another law school.

To be eligible to enroll in an Accelerated Academic Session at another law school, a student must have completed 24 credit hours at SULC and be in good standing. A student will not receive credit for an Accelerated Academic Session that is scheduled for any dates that coincide, in whole or in part, with an SULC academic semester or session in which the student is otherwise enrolled.

A student who wishes to enroll in an Accelerated Academic Session shall complete an Application to Visit Another Law School no fewer than four weeks prior to the commencement of the Accelerated Academic Session. All applications must be approved by the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Students should be forewarned that while some Accelerated Academic Sessions are ABA-approved and may meet the academic quality and integrity standards of SULC, there are many sessions that fall below the standards of this institution and will not be approved. The Law Center's previous approval of a student's participation in a session is not an assurance that the Law Center will continue to approve the requested session.

The term "accelerated academic sessions" shall include concentrated courses that are taught between academic semesters or between academic semesters and summer sessions such as intersession or turbo session courses.

Summer Session

The Law Center offers a limited number of courses during a seven-week summer session. Students are normally allowed to take a maximum course load of eight credit hours. Students desiring to enroll in summer school must register through BANNER during the spring semester.

Second-semester first-year students who have received an "I" grade in any course cannot register for summer school.

Students desiring to attend the summer session must enroll in at least four credit hours in order to be eligible for financial aid.

Tuition, Fees, and Expenses

Southern University Law Center offers an affordable, quality legal education in comparison with other law schools. The cost of attendance is outlined below.

Tuition and Fees

Tuition and fees for full-time Louisiana residents are approximately $6,000 per semester. Tuition and fees for out-of-state students are approximately $10,800 per semester.

Part-time day fees range from approximately $3,690 to $5,200 per semester. Part-time evening fees average approximately $5,170 per semester. The out-of-state fee in addition to the above part-time fees is $4,800 per semester.

Tuition and fees are subject to change. Refer to the applicable tuition and fee schedules for the Fall, Spring, or Summer semesters for the most current academic year.

Expenses

When estimating your total cost of attendance, living allowances, books, supplies, transportation, and miscellaneous expenses should be considered in addition to tuition and fees.

Each student is expected to obtain his or her own casebooks and other course materials. The approximate cost of required materials for a law student will range from $1,400 per year for a part-time student up to $1,800 per year for a full-time student.

It is recommended that students inquire about recent changes in course offerings to ensure proper selection of textbooks and other course and study materials before purchasing books and supplies.

The cost of living for a single independent student living off campus is estimated to be approximately $9,000 per semester. While lifestyles vary, this cost estimate includes relevant expenses for housing, food, transportation, and other incidental expenses.

Refunds for Matriculating Students

Student refunds are processed and distributed by the Finance Department. You will be notified via your SULC e-mail when your refund will be available for distribution. Refunds will be initially distributed within 14 days after the first day of class.

Housing

Limited dormitory accommodations are available for law students on the Southern University campus. Since there are no designated dormitories for law students, the Housing office assigns law students to dormitories housing seniors and other mature students. Dormitory rooms are designed to accommodate two students per room. All students desiring to live in campus housing are required to submit an application to the Housing office, in addition to a security deposit of $50.

Rooms are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, regardless of classification. Interested students should contact the Director of Housing for more information (225) 771-3590 or 1-800-432-5899.

Students who elect to live off-campus can find suitable living accommodations in apartments and houses located throughout the city of Baton Rouge.

Meal Plans

Students living on campus in university dormitories are required to purchase a meal card. The University offers a seven-day meal plan.

A meal plan specifically designed for students who live off campus is also available. Under this plan, meal cards may be purchased on a prorated basis. Students who desire to participate in a meal plan should contact Campus Dining (225) 771-2363.

Health Care

The University maintains a Student Health Center staffed by three physicians, three registered nurses, and four LPNs. The Health Center provides health care for noncritical illnesses and injuries during the academic year, but not during vacation or holiday periods. Hours are from 8 a.m. to midnight Monday-Friday (schedule subject to change).

The University provides a student accident and health insurance plan for students attending school on a full-time and part-time basis. The plan offers 24-hour coverage for accidents and illnesses occurring during each semester. The cost of this service is included in comprehensive general fees.

Information concerning the student accident and health insurance plan may be obtained by contacting the Student Health Center (225) 771-4770 or the Office of Student Affairs (225) 771-3922.

Automobile Registration and Parking

Motor vehicles (including motorcycles) operated by Law Center students on the Southern University Baton Rouge Campus must be registered. The University requires all students to register their vehicles, regardless of ownership. The student vehicle registration fee is $45 for the academic year.

Parking spaces are available for law students in parking areas west of the Law Center and also on the east and west side of the A.W. Mumford Stadium. Vehicles illegally parked will be removed by Campus Police at the owner's expense.

Refund of Tuition & Fees When Students Withdraw

Academic fees are refunded as follows:

1. The General Fee, which includes student-assessed fees and nonresident fees, is refundable in accordance with the following schedule when a student resigns from the Law Center after completing the registration process:
 - a. before classes begin, 90 percent;
 - b. during the first 17 days of classes (first seven days in summer session), 75 percent;
 - c. from the 18th through the 24th day of classes (eighth day through the 12th day in summer session), 50 percent;
 - d. from the 25th day of classes (13th day in summer session) to the end of the semester, none.
2. Student insurance, parking fees, breakage fees, late registration fees, student ID fees, and the technology fee are non-refundable.

3. Military Service

Students being activated or mobilized for military duty have the opportunity to withdraw without academic prejudice or financial obligations. Students unable to complete sufficient or satisfactory coursework to earn academic credit may withdraw in writing from coursework with a full refund of tuition and mandatory fees.

Financial aid (Title IV) recipients will be subject to the Federal Return of Title IV Funds process. Students who have completed enough of the term to receive academic credit and satisfactory grades, as approved by the instructor, may choose to receive grades rather than withdrawing. In this case, the student would not receive a refund of tuition and fees.

Exception to Policy Based on Mitigating Circumstances

Any exception to this policy based on mitigating circumstances, such as an accident or other extreme occurrences, must have approval of the Chancellor.

Financial Aid

The Law Center assists students in meeting the cost of a legal education through various financial aid programs. The amount of funds available to students is limited. It is suggested that students pursue all sources available to obtain financial assistance.

To be eligible for financial assistance in governmental-funded programs, all students must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid through the United States Department of Education at www.fafsa.ed.gov. The Law Center assists students in meeting the cost of a legal education through various financial aid programs. It is suggested that students pursue all sources available to obtain financial assistance.

All materials required for loans and other financial assistance MUST be submitted to the Law Center NO LATER THAN APRIL 15 of the award year.

Federally insured student loans are available to eligible students in amounts set by law. Financial aid is available through the Federal Direct (unsubsidized and Graduate PLUS) Loan Program. The maximum Direct Unsubsidized Loan amount is $20,500 per academic year. The maximum Graduate PLUS Loan amount per academic year is the difference of the total cost of attendance budget minus other aid.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS POLICY

Students receiving federal student financial aid must maintain "Satisfactory Academic Progress" (SAP) in order to be eligible to receive aid. The Financial Aid Office evaluates Satisfactory Academic Progress after the completion of each academic year, generally two semesters. There are three components to satisfactory progress: a qualitative standard (grade point average); an incremental quantitative standard (number of credits attempted and earned for each year of study); and a maximum time frame for the degree or program. All courses attempted must be factored into the determination of satisfactory academic progress.

Purpose

The intent of this policy is to ensure that students using the financial aid program are demonstrating responsible use of public funds in pursuit of their educational goals; to set standards for monitoring all financial aid recipients' course completion rates each year, and to warn individual students when progress is inadequate.

Definitions

Attempted Course – course that remains on the student's record after the first fourteen days of the term.

Completed course/earned credit – course in which a grade of A, B, C, or D was received. Withdrawals (W), incomplete grades (I), or failures (F) are not considered "earned credit" for meeting satisfactory progress requirements.

Financial aid – The Federal Title IV programs and state institutional programs are listed below:

1. Federal Direct Loan (unsubsidized and Graduate PLUS)

2. Tuition Opportunity Program for Students (TOPS)
3. Scholarships and Awards

Financial aid probation – A term in which a student who has been identified as not meeting one or more standards in this policy and continues to receive financial aid. At the end of the semester of financial aid probation, a student is expected to meet satisfactory academic progress requirements in order to continue receiving financial aid.

Financial aid termination – The point at which a student is no longer eligible to receive financial aid as defined in this policy; normally, this is following an unsuccessful term of probation.

Incomplete – A grade of "I" received for an attempted course; no credit is received until the course is completed.

Quantitative measure – Time frame for the student to complete the program and a minimum number of credits the student must satisfactorily complete each year.

Qualitative measure – Measurement of a student's academic standing consistent with the requirement for graduation from the program of study.

Satisfactory Academic Progress – Completion of courses at a rate that meets the standards defined in this policy.

Transfer credit – Course(s) accepted for credit at SULC from another institution.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS STANDARDS

It shall be the policy of the Southern University Law Center to provide financial aid awards to students who are making satisfactory academic progress toward their degrees while receiving financial aid. In order to be eligible for financial aid, satisfactory academic progress shall be defined as having a minimum cumulative grade point average as outlined in the chart below and having earned 70 percent of the credits attempted.

A financial aid recipient is to earn credit for at least 70 percent of all courses attempted. A student who receives financial aid but does not earn credit for any courses within a semester is not eligible to receive financial aid in subsequent semesters. If mitigating circumstances were responsible for zero course completion within a semester, a student may appeal and be granted a term of financial aid probation if adequate documentation is provided (e.g., a doctor's statement).

Financial aid recipients who do not meet these conditions will lose their financial aid eligibility. Unless otherwise stated, a student's entire academic history (including transfer hours) is considered for purposes of this policy regardless of whether the student received financial aid at the time the credit hours were completed. The official class list from the 14th day report is used to determine a student's attempted hours.

Credit hours attempted Financial Aid Suspended	Maintaining Progress
0-29 credit hours	1.9 or better 0.00-1.89
30-96 credit hours	2.0 or better 0.00-1.99

Course Repetitions, Incompletes, and Withdrawals

When a student repeats a course, the grade earned in the course before it was repeated is included in the cumulative computation of the student's average.

Incomplete grades—Students receiving excessive incomplete grades in their courses are not progressing satisfactorily. Therefore, a student who has six or more hours of incomplete grades in any semester or at any time will be placed on financial aid probation for the next semester of attendance and is expected to complete the courses with incomplete grades within six weeks after registration for the following semester. Failure to timely remove an incomplete grade results in automatic conversion to "F." An incomplete grade is given only when the student can convincingly demonstrate, through documentation whenever possible, that he will be or was unable to take a final examination as regularly scheduled and that he would have taken it, if not for the intervening circumstances.

A course in which a student withdraws and receives a "W" grade will be counted as an attempted course in evaluation of the student's satisfactory academic progress.

MONITORING INTERVALS

Satisfactory academic progress shall be monitored annually at the conclusion of each spring semester or at the time the student is applying for financial aid if a current satisfactory progress assessment is not available.

NOTIFICATION OF FINANCIAL AID PROBATION OR TERMINATION

The Financial Aid Office will send a warning letter to any student who is put on probation or a termination letter to any student who is no longer eligible for financial aid. It is the responsibility of the student to maintain current addresses with the Office of Records and Enrollment Management or JAGNET.

INELIGIBLE STUDENTS

Students who are deficient in credit hours or grade point averages at the end of the Spring Semester and subject to losing their financial aid eligibility may make up the deficiencies during the Summer Session. Such a student may eventually lose financial aid eligibility if the student fails to attain academic progress after the Summer Session. First-year students who fall below a 2.0 cumulative grade point average are not eligible to attend summer school.

APPEALS

Students who have been denied financial aid based on this policy have the right to appeal. To initiate a satisfactory academic progress appeal, the student must complete a Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeal Form and submit it along with all required supporting documentation, to the Southern University Law Center Office of Financial Aid Attention: Appeals Committee. If the Appeals Committee allows the student to continue to receive financial aid, the student is placed on a limited conditional or probationary semester of aid. Additionally, students may be required to submit an Academic Plan of Study if he/she is unable to meet the SAP policy by the end of the period. The decision of the Appeals Committee is final. Students will be notified regarding the decision prior to the start of the semester of application via SULC email.

REASONS FOR APPEAL

Under general circumstances, a student may appeal his or her financial aid termination for one or more of the following reasons:

1. Change of grade.
2. Death or serious illness of an immediate family member (e.g., parent or legal guardian, sibling, spouse, or family member). A death certificate and a notarized statement regarding the relationship with the deceased are required.
3. Medical illness or injury to the student or a dependent child (attending physician's statement is required).
4. Other causes (e.g., natural disaster, acts of God).

All appeals must be in writing and submitted within the timelines established by the Appeals Committee. All documents and appeal applications will be accepted by U.S. Mail, Express Mail (e.g., Federal Express) or hand delivery. Faxes and late separated documents will not be accepted. All appeals must be completed by the student. Appeals completed by the parents, guardians, friends or other parties on behalf of the student will not be accepted.

REINSTATEMENT OF FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY

Students who do not maintain satisfactory academic progress shall lose their eligibility for financial aid but may regain eligibility only after eliminating all deficiencies.

RETURNING AND TRANSFER STUDENTS

Returning and transfer students must be in good academic standing and must have earned 70 percent of all hours attempted with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 to be eligible to receive financial aid.

This policy will be amended whenever applicable federal or state laws and regulations are changed.

American Bar Association President-elect Addresses SULC

Throughout the year —the Fall and Spring convocations, Spring Commencement, the annual Law Center Speakers Series —guest speakers come to the Southern University Law Center to address a wide range of topics of interest that broaden the curricula and professional knowledge of audiences.

The Journal of Race, Gender, and Poverty hosted its first annual symposium, “State of the Union: The Progress Report,” February 19, 2010. The journal thrives on the discussion of subjects that remain relevant in society but fail to receive adequate coverage in mainstream law journals. In its symposia, the journal staff plans to provoke critical thought, discussion, enlighten the community. Most of all, these discussions will serve as a reminder of the world’s persistent injustices while encouraging the community to take a stand against those injustices.

The Justice Revis O. Ortique, Jr, Symposium on Law, Politics, Civil Rights, and Justice is named for the late New Orleans native and longtime resident Revis O. Ortique, Jr, a 1956 graduate of the Southern University Law School, who became the first African-American to be elected to the Louisiana Supreme Court. Justice Ortique, who passed on June 22, 2008, through his many first attainments in the legal profession was a person of leadership, courage, dedication, and perseverance.

To honor Justice Ortique for his monumental impact on the course of judicial, political, and civil rights history in Louisiana and throughout the nation, SULC’s Louis Berry Civil Rights and Justice Institute hosts academic conferences on law and politics. Organized by Law Center administrators and alumni volunteers, the symposium provides a forum for thematic discussions, films, readings, and public addresses by prominent national leaders and provides the opportunity for continuing legal education. The inaugural symposium was held on March 29, 2007, with the theme: “Why Justice Matters in the Rebuilding of Community,” addressing the post-Katrina problems of the Gulf Coast region. Major sponsorship was provided by Liberty Bank and Trust, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Individual faculty members, including those who serve as student advisers, and student organization members also bring guest speakers to the Law Center, in conjunction with their annual group activities or as part of local, regional, and national meetings that may be hosted by the Law Center.

Law Center offices such as Clinical Education, Career Counseling and Development, CLE and Alumni Affairs, Academic Support Programs, Recruitment and Admissions, and the Law Center Chapter of the American Inns of Court regularly sponsor speakers.

Academics

The Law Center is committed to offering its students the benefit of a rigorous, traditional legal education. At the same time, the faculty and administration are attentive to developing trends in legal education.

The Law Center constantly strives to design its curriculum so that graduates will be well prepared to meet the demands of a challenging legal profession now and into the future. As a result, changes in the curriculum may be required before the publication of the next Law Center catalog.

Although Louisiana is essentially a civil law jurisdiction, the principles, doctrines, and jurisprudence of the common law tradition are strongly integrated into the curriculum.

New courses are added to the curriculum periodically to meet the needs of students and the Law Center. All required courses must be satisfactorily completed for graduation. Any student who receives a grade of “F” in a required course must repeat the course.

The Law Center provides a special four-year, part-time day program to accommodate students who wish to pursue the study of law but cannot attend school on a full-time basis. Part-time day students attend classes with traditional full-time students.

The Law Center provides a special four-year, evening program to accommodate students who wish to pursue the study of law but cannot attend school on a full or part-time basis during the day.

Descriptions of Courses

The Law Center is committed to offering its students the benefit of a rigorous, traditional legal education. At the same time, the faculty and administration are attentive to developing trends in legal education.

400 TORTS I. Three hours.

Introduction to the concept of fault based liability, intentional torts, negligence, defenses, and damages are covered in this course.

401 TORTS II. Two hours.

This course continues the study of negligence, malpractice, damages, wrongful death and survival actions, comparative fault, prescription, preemption, immunities, solidary liability, vicarious liability, strict and absolute liabilities, premises liability, product liability, defamation and invasion of privacy, and tortious interference with contracts with particular emphasis on Louisiana law.

402 CONTRACTS. Three hours.

The course provides a study of basic principles of the Anglo-American law of contracts including contract formation (offer, acceptance, and consideration), contractual interpretation and defenses, and the consequences for breach of contract. The primary source of rules is the Restatement Second of Contracts, as well as an introduction to the Uniform Commercial Code (Articles 1 & 2) and possibly the United Nations Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG) and the Unidroit Principles. The course focuses on the development of primary legal skills such as reading and briefing cases, interpreting statutes, synthesizing rules, and applying rules to factual situations. It may include exercises in contract negotiation and drafting. The course grade is based primarily on a final exam consisting of hypothetical factual situations requiring analysis in essay form using principles taught in the course.

404 CRIMINAL LAW. Three hours.

An analysis of the subject, including a study of the various crimes and the general principles of culpability and justification, with special attention to the analysis of the Louisiana Criminal Code and prior jurisprudence in Louisiana and elsewhere.

405 BASIC CIVIL PROCEDURE. Three hours.

Structure and operation of judicial systems, functions of basic procedural devices and remedies, including pleadings, joinder of claims and parties, discovery devices, and pretrial and the appellate process.

406 FAMILY LAW. Three hours.

A study of the civil law of marriage; annulment; divorce; spousal and child support; filiation, including adoption; minors, their custody and the administration of their estates; tutorship; emancipation; interdiction and the curatorship of interdicts, and community property.

408 LEGAL RESEARCH. One hour.

An intensive study of the use of legal materials and research methods. Practical problems in research will be assigned.

410 LEARNING CITIZENSHIP THROUGH THE CONSTITUTION. Three hours.

This course is open to Marshall-Brennan Fellows only. The fellows will learn classroom management, pedagogical methods and master the “We the Students” curricula which deals with first amendment issues. At the end of the course, each fellow must write a paper on a topic covered in the course. Successful completion of Constitutional Law I and II is a prerequisite for the course.

412 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW I. Two hours.

Constitutional Law I is a comprehensive study of the Constitution with emphasis on the allocation of enumerated and existing powers of the three branches of the federal government, how those branches interact with one another and the concept of federalism based upon decisions of the United States Supreme Court. Specifically, Constitutional Law I studies how power is shared between the federal government and the states. This course also introduces individual constitutional protections/guarantees, specifically the economic liberties accorded to individuals by the state and federal governments as granted through the federal Constitution.

413 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW II. Three hours.

Constitutional Law II is the study of the leading principles and doctrines of United States constitutional law, based primarily upon decisions of the United States Supreme Court. Building upon the knowledge learned from Constitutional Law I, Constitutional Law II teaches the impact and effect of the 14th Amendment on the States. The Supreme Court’s rulings on fundamental rights are discussed as well as a comprehensive examination of the First Amendment including the freedom speech, the freedom of assembly, the freedom to petition the government, the freedom of the press and both the free exercise and establishment Clause. PREREQUISITE: Successful completion of Constitutional Law I.

415 CIVIL LAW PROPERTY. Three hours.

This course entails an in-depth study of Book II of the Louisiana Civil Code (Civil Law Property). Students will master a variety of civilian property concepts, including things, ownership, occupancy, possession, servitudes, building restrictions, usufruct, and prescription. The relevant articles of the Louisiana Civil Code and Revised Statutes, the jurisprudence, and secondary commentary interpreting the code articles, and their French (or Spanish) predecessors when necessary are studied in the course.

417 OBLIGATIONS. Three hours.

The course is a study of the civil law of obligations, including obligations in general, conventional obligations (contracts), obligations arising without agreement (other than torts), donations inter vivos, deposit, loan, suretyship (introduction), compromise, and other topics in Book III of the Louisiana Civil Code, using the Code and Louisiana jurisprudence interpreting the Code. It builds on basic principles of contract law, but as they are defined and used in Louisiana as opposed to the more general common law rules. The course focuses on the continued development of legal skills such as interpreting Civil Code articles in context and in jurisprudence (case law) and applying them to factual situations. It may include exercises in contract negotiation and drafting. The course grade is based primarily on a final exam consisting of hypothetical factual situations requiring analysis in essay form and may include multiple-choice questions as well.

418 CRIMINAL PROCEDURE. Three hours.

Students will study Constitutional issues involving the administration of criminal justice, focusing on recent United States Supreme Court cases involving the 4th, 5th and 6th Amendments. Pretrial procedures of arrest; criminal investigations; pretrial right to counsel; self incrimination; illegally obtained evidence and identifying suspects are covered in the course.

420 CRIMINAL TRIAL PROCEDURE. Three hours.

Students will study the procedures governing the trial of criminal cases. The topics covered will include institution of prosecution by indictment or information, trial motions and procedures, verdict, sentencing, appeal, and post-conviction remedies. The right to counsel is also covered. The Louisiana Code of Criminal Procedure will be given special attention.

421 LEGAL ANALYSIS & WRITING I. Two hours.

This course is an introduction to the fundamentals of legal analysis and writing. The course emphasizes the importance of legal reasoning and analysis in all aspects of the legal practice. Though written exercises involving case briefing, objective memoranda, and exam writing, students learn the basics of legal analysis, while also learning how to conform to ethical standards in writing, to use correct citation form, to organize their thoughts, and to express those thoughts clearly in writing. Students receive individualized assessment of written work in private conferences with the professors and learn to edit and rewrite drafts of their own work. Students spend 150 minutes per week in class, which allows extra time for intensive analysis exercises and practice in spontaneous writing.

422 LEGAL ANALYSIS & WRITING II. Two hours.

This course is a continuation of Legal Analysis & Writing I. While teaching legal analysis and clear and effective writing remains the basic goal, students shift from objective to persuasive writing and oral advocacy. Students learn to incorporate the skills learned in Legal Analysis & Writing I and Legal Research into preparing persuasive documents such as letters and trial memoranda and hone oral advocacy skills in a mock trial court argument. Students spend 150 minutes per week in class, which allows extra time to practice analysis and persuasive writing and learn advanced citation form.

426 ADVANCED LEGAL ANALYSIS & WRITING. Two hours.

This upper-level writing course or an approved substitute is required to graduate. Students learn professional skills that include written communication and drafting and editing pleadings, briefs, and judgments. Students engage in a rigorous writing experience involving drafting an appellate brief. Students are taken through the research, analysis, and writing process step-by-step, during which they learn to spot and analyze issues, to organize their thoughts, and to express those thoughts clearly in writing. Students confer individually with their professors for assessments of their written work and edit and rewrite their appellate briefs. Legal Analysis and Writing I and II are prerequisites for this course.

456 TECHNIQUES OF ADVANCED RESEARCH. Two hours.

This course is a study of the sources and techniques for basic legal research. Coverage includes sources of law, types of authority, secondary sources, case law, statutes, administrative regulations, legislative history, citation format, and developing a successful legal research plan. Students will be required to complete several practical research problems as well as a final examination.

458 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH. One hour.

Students shall prepare a prospectus for a research paper to be written under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. Eligibility for the course shall be approved by the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs. Students must read and follow the requirements of the Independent Research policy to enroll in the course. The policy is found in the student handbook.

459. INDEPENDENT RESEARCH. Two hours.

Students shall prepare a prospectus for a substantial research paper to be written under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. Eligibility for the course shall be approved by the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs. Students shall meet individually with their professors for assessment of written work and then edit and rewrite the papers to produce works of such quality that they could be published as student notes in a law review. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate. Students must read and follow the requirements of the Independent Research policy to enroll in the course. The policy is found in the student handbook. Legal Analysis and Writing I and II are prerequisites for this course.

502 EVIDENCE. Three hours.

A study of the general character of the law of evidence, including real and circumstantial evidence, qualifications and impeachment of witnesses, expert testimony, corroboration, admissions, confessions, the "best evidence" rule, the "hearsay" rule and its exceptions, privileges, and authentication of documentary evidence. Criminal Law and Contracts are prerequisites for this course.

504 LOUISIANA CIVIL PROCEDURE I. Three hours.

Examines the principles of justiciability, jurisdiction, venue, service of process, parties, pleading, cumulation, default, defense mechanisms, discovery, trial, judgments, and modification of judgments in the trial courts. The emphasis is on litigation as it occurs in ordinary practice.

505 LOUISIANA CIVIL PROCEDURE II. Two hours.

Examines the principles of appeal, supervisory review, nullity, res judicata, execution of judgments, and judicial sale. The course concludes with an examination of the special rules applicable to executory process and other creditors' remedies (attachment, sequestration, and garnishment); and to particular categories of proceedings; injunctions, mandamus, habeas corpus, separation and divorce matters, real actions, concursus, tutorship, interdiction, succession and probate proceedings, and other specialized areas.

506 ADMINISTRATIVE LAW. Three hours.

A basic course in the law governing administrative agencies. Although the course materials focus on the development of federal administrative law, the legal principles studied have wide applicability in the governance of state and local agencies. Among the several themes pursued in the course are judicial review of agency action; the balance between procedural fairness and the efficient accomplishment of legislative purposes; the exercise of administrative power through rule-making and adjudication; and the implications for administrative law caused by a major shift in activity from economic regulatory agencies to benefit-conferring agencies.

507 SECURITY DEVICES. Three hours.

Examination of the theory and practical uses of the various security interests available under the Uniform Commercial Code, the Louisiana Civil Code and ancillary statutory systems. The principal subjects covered are suretyship, mortgage, registry, security interests in movable and immovable property, privileges associated with the construction industry, and the Code scheme of special and general privileges.

509 SALE AND LEASE. Three hours.

A study of Sale, Exchange, Lease, Of Registry and other topics in Book III of the Louisiana Civil Code and Louisiana jurisprudence. The course focuses on integration and understanding of a broad range of topics, and thus requires a solid understanding of Obligations. Consequently, Obligations is a prerequisite for this course. The course grade is based primarily on a final exam consisting of hypothetical factual situations requiring analysis in essay form and may include hypothetical-based multiple-choice questions as well.

510 LEARNING CITIZENSHIP THROUGH THE CONSTITUTION. Three hours.

This course begins with a study of agency law and then examines the most common business entities: the partnership, the limited liability partnership (LLP), the limited liability company (LLC), and the corporation. The course includes an examination of the formation, operation, and termination of the agency relationship and each of the basic business entities. The liability of the principal, agent, and third party are studied in the context of the agency relationship as well as in the context of each different business entity. Comparative analysis is conducted, including a study of the relative advantages and disadvantages of the different business entities. A substantial portion of the course is devoted to the corporate entity, including public, private, and close corporations.

515 COMMERCIAL PAPER. Three hours.

Closely analyzes the structure and content of the modern law of negotiable instruments as embodied in Revised articles 3 and 4 and relevant portions of article 1 of the Uniform Commercial Code. Its coverage includes the formal requirements for negotiability, the holder-in-due-course concept and its limitations, liabilities and rights of parties and holders. Also examined are problems arising in connection with bank deposits and collections, particularly in the context of the bank-customer relationship. Problems concerning forgery and the allocation of losses resulting from wrongdoing and error are examined. Wire transfers governed by article 4A are considered.

518. APPELLATE ADVOCACY I. Two hours.

An introduction to appellate practice, focusing on brief writing and oral argument followed by the assignment of moot court problems. Students will be required to review constitutional provisions, statutes, codal provisions, rules of court and legal commentaries. Students engage in a rigorous writing experience involving drafting an appellate brief, confer individually with their professor for assessments of their written work, and edit and rewrite their appellate briefs. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate. Legal Analysis and Writing I and II are prerequisites for this course.

519 PRETRIAL LITIGATION. Two hours.

678 ALTERNATIVE METHODS OF DISPUTE RESOLUTION. Two hours.

Examines the validity of the basic criticism directed at the adversarial mode of dispute resolution in terms of various criteria (e.g., costs, delay, and formality). A major focus of the seminar will be the study of particular alternative ways of resolving disputes, such as arbitration, mediation and negotiation; problems taken from a number of areas (e.g., property, family law, criminal law, and commercial disputes) will provide an illustrative context for this part of the discussion.

680 SEMINAR IN LEGAL NEGOTIATION. Two hours.

Designed to provide a systematic analysis of negotiation theory and practice as they relate to the work of lawyers. The course will examine ideas and theories about negotiation, along with the methods of negotiation.

683. LEGISLATIVE DRAFTING SEMINAR. Three hours.

Developing regulatory assessments and legislative reform lie at the core of the Legislative Drafting experience. Students shall work towards the goal of increasing lawmakers' capacity for proposing policy goals and enacting sound state reforms. Each student shall be required to draft legislation and prepare a research report that assesses the bill's provisions and demonstrates its effectiveness. Students confer individually with their professor for assessment of written work and edit and rewrite their papers to produce works of such quality that they could be published as student notes in a law review. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate. Legal Analysis and Writing I and II are prerequisites for this course.

684 EDUCATION LAW. Two hours.

Course covers the general principles and laws governing elementary, post-secondary, and higher education.

685 EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION LAW. Three hours.

Course analyzes the statutory, constitutional, administrative, and judicial responses to discrimination in the workplace.

700 SPORTS LAW. Two hours.

Course explores how the law impacts the sports industry, both amateur and professional. Particular aspects of sports law, including agency, contracts, torts, labor law, antitrust, taxation, constitutional law, and civil rights are studied. Significant segments of the course are devoted to the governance of sports with emphasis on intercollegiate sports governed by the NCAA. The role of the sports agent in the representation of athletes is brought to life through a negotiation project.

701 SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN COMMERCIAL LAW. Two hours.

Two-fold purpose includes one objective: to enhance students' understanding of basic principles of commercial law, primarily through study of materials not covered in introductory or survey courses, such as contracts, commercial paper, or security devices. Second objective: to expose students to commercial law topics, which are beyond the scope of introductory or survey courses. Particular focus of the course may vary from year-to-year, but in all instances an indication of coverage will be published before registration for the semester in which the course is to be offered.

703 CONSTRUCTION LAW. Two hours.

Course covers the general principles and laws governing building of commercial and residential structures.

704 TOXIC TORTS. Three hours.

Environmental and toxic torts comprise harm to persons, to property, or to the environment due to the toxicity of a product, a substance, or a process. As the injury or damage often remains undiscovered for years after the exposure or contamination, this type of litigation will often involve complex issues of causation, prescriptive periods, and applicable law. These concepts will be examined utilizing national and Louisiana jurisprudence.

706 INTERNATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL LAW & POLICY. Three hours.

An introduction to the international treaties and other legal mechanisms created in response to specific global environmental problems, such as climate change; ozone destruction; wildlife extinction and loss of biological diversity; and the containment of air, land, and water. It also examines the conflicts that arise in addressing these problems due to the differing perspectives and goals of the world's nations, including the conflicts that arise between wealthy, industrialized countries and developing countries seeking to escape the cycle of poverty through economic growth. Focus is placed on the intersection of international environmental law with other fields, such as trade, human rights, and corporate codes of conduct.

707 ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE. Three hours.

An examination of the Principles of Environmental Justice as promulgated at the First National People of Color Environmental Leadership Summit will be pursued throughout this course. Further, students will employ multidisciplinary approaches to analyze environmental justice issues in the United States and internationally. Students will explore the origins of the environmental justice movement and potential grounds for legal action under federal and state law.

708 COPYRIGHT LAW. Two hours.

Course covers state, federal, and international schemes for protecting literary and artistic works, trade names, trademarks, and other intellectual properties, other than patents. Each student shall be required to write a substantial research paper in this course. Students confer individually with their professor for assessment of written work and then edit and rewrite the papers to produce works of such quality that they could be published as student notes in a law review. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate. Legal Analysis and Writing I and II and Intellectual Property Law are prerequisites for this course.

709 INTERNATIONAL TAXATION. Three hours.

This basic course offers the fundamentals of the function of the IRS in the global economy and taxation of international transactions. It is a study of "tax haven" countries and the taxation of worldwide sourced income. A course objective is paralleling and contrasting the tax implications between a person's country of residency and a person's country of citizenship.

710 REGULATION OF TOXIC AND HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES. Two hours.

This course will present an overview of federal regulation of toxic and hazardous substances. Particularly emphasis will be placed on Comprehensive Environmental Resource, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA) (Superfund) and Resources Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). It will also provide an introduction to Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) and Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA).

713 TAXATION OF FLOW-THROUGH ENTITIES. Two hours.

Course will focus on the income tax issues related to partnerships, limited-liability companies, Subchapter s corporations and trusts.

714 TAX PROCEDURE AND LITIGATION. Two hours.

Class and materials will examine how the IRS functions and its organizational structure, IRS procedures of determining tax liability limitations, and rights of the IRS concerning the assessment and collection of taxes, tax return auditing, choosing a tax litigation forum, refund litigation, and criminal tax.

717 REGULATION OF AIR AND WATER POLLUTION. Two hours.

Course provides an overview of the basic federal pollution statutes, the Clean Air Act and the Clean Water Act. In addition to an examination of the major provisions of the Clean Air Act, related topics to be explored include: National Ambient Air Quality Standards; implementation plans, including permit programs and incentive-based techniques for improving air quality; and, the problem of trans-boundary air pollution. The structure and major provisions of the Clean Water Act will be studied, also. Additional areas of focus include: effluent limitations on point source discharges; the impact of water quality standards on permit limits; and future directions in water pollution control, including nonpoint source controls, watershed protection and effluent trading.

768. HEALTH LAW. Three hours.

Course will focus on the regulation of the medical profession, the law of medical malpractice, ERISA, and problems in medical and legal ethics. Each student shall be required to write a substantial research paper in this course. Students confer individually with their professor for assessment of written work and then edit and rewrite the papers to produce works of such quality that they could be published as student notes in a law review. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate. Legal Analysis and Writing I and II are prerequisites for this course.

769 AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES LAW. Three hours.

Goal of this online course is to familiarize students with the legal, policy, and practical implications of the Americans With Disabilities Act as it applies to people with both physical and mental disabilities. The course will cover the wide range of disability-based discrimination that the ADA addresses.

779 MENTAL DISABILITY LAW. Three hours.

Course is offered online and covers civil/constitutional issues (involuntary civil commitment, institutional rights, the right to refuse treatment, deinstitutionalization, and the Americans with Disabilities Act). Also covers criminal issues (competencies, the insanity defense, Federal Sentencing Guidelines, sexually violent predator acts, the importance of mental disability in criminal trial process issues such as confessions and the privilege against self-incrimination, and the death penalty).

790 STATUTORY ANALYSIS. Three hours.

An overview of the topics tested on the Louisiana Bar Examination – specifically the following sections: Torts; Code I; La. Code of Civil Procedure; Constitutional Law; and Criminal Law, Procedure, and Evidence. Course will focus on developing techniques that will assist with preparing for the bar examination. Students will learn how the various sections of the bar examination are traditionally designed and the substantive focus of each section. A pass/fail course.

791 STATUTORY ANALYSIS II. Three hours.

An overview of the topics tested on the Louisiana Bar Examination – specifically the following sections: Torts, Code II, Business Entities and Negotiable Instruments, Code III, and Federal Jurisdiction and Procedure. The course will focus on developing techniques that will assist with preparing for the bar examination. Students will learn how the various sections of the bar examination are traditionally designed and the substantive focus of each section. This is a pass/fail course.

804 REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS. Three hours.

Course will examine the fundamental issues in real estate transactions, including financing, contracting and conveyancing in the context of residential and commercial transactions. The course will also cover brokers' rights and obligations, title insurance, abstracts, foreclosure, borrower protections, and tax sales.

805 INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL LAW. Three hours. (Studies Abroad only)

Course examines selected issues and current problems involving the criminal-law aspects of international law and the international aspect of criminal law. The course will further review the substantive international law as contained in multilateral treaties concerning terrorism, war crimes, and crimes against humanity. Lastly, the course will focus on the new Yugoslavia and Rwanda war crimes tribunal and the permanent International Criminal Court.

806 PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW. Three hours. (Studies Abroad only)

Course will focus on the international aspects of conflicts of law, including the examination of British and other foreign decisions in an international context. This course will conclude with a review of the conflicts rules of the European Union.

807 COMPARATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL LAW. Three hours. (Studies Abroad only)

Course will focus on individual rights under the U.S. Constitution and compare how the U.S. Constitution protects such individual rights in comparison to various European constitutions.

808 EUROPEAN LAW. Three hours. (Studies Abroad only)

Course covers the constitutional and institutional laws of the European Union.

810. LAW AND RELIGION. Two hours.

Primary focus of the course will be issues arising under the Free Exercise Clause and the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. State constitutional law will also be considered. Course will also cover federal and state statutes relating to religion, e.g., the various Religious Freedom Protection Acts and the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act (RLUIPA), as well as procedures for bringing actions for violations of constitutional rights. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate if the student chooses to write a substantial research paper. If the student chooses not to write a paper, he or she must take a final exam, and no advanced writing credit will be given. However, Legal Analysis and Writing I and II are prerequisites for this course. Each student shall confer individually with the professor for assessment of written work and then edit and rewrite the papers to produce works of such quality that they could be published. This course satisfies the requirement that a student take Advanced Legal Analysis and Writing to graduate.

812 LABOR/EMPLOYMENT LAW. Three hours.

A study in labor and employment relations covering general labor law, employment-at-will, employment contracts, whistle-blower legislation, FLSA, and the American with Disabilities Act.

900 VOTING RIGHTS LAW. Two hours.

Covers voting rights protections provided by the Federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended, the Constitution of the United States, and decisions of the Federal Courts interpreting both. The students will study the legal structure of the American Political process, including protections against racial discrimination in registration, voting and casting an effective vote, the one-person one-vote rule and how these effect local and state redistricting, and Congressional reapportionment.

905 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW. Three hours.

A survey of intellectual property law, including the law of trade secrets, patents, copyrights, and trademarks. Though primarily a federal statutory law course, some topics include state statutory law and common law analysis. Roughly equal coverage is provided for each of the four substantive areas of intellectual property law. This course is a prerequisite for the following courses: Patent Law, Copyright Law, and Trademark Law.

925 TRADEMARK LAW. Three hours.

Course covers trademark and unfair competition law. The requirements for establishing trademark rights, through both use and registration, are covered. The course also discusses various types of violations of trademark rights, including infringement, dilution, and cybersquatting. Defenses such as laches, functionality, fair use, and parody are also included. Some international trademark issues, such as the importation of counterfeit goods, may be included. Intellectual Property Law is a prerequisite for this class.

Requirements for Graduation

Upon favorable recommendation by the faculty, the degree of Juris Doctor shall be awarded to all students who have successfully completed all the requirements set forth in this catalog.

Honors

To qualify for honors, a candidate must have completed all work leading to the degree of Juris Doctor and must have attained the required cumulative grade point average as follows: cum laude, 3.3; magna cum laude, 3.6; and summa cum laude, 3.9.

Credits and Residency

The three-year curriculum is designed in accord with the professional law courses usually offered in ABA-approved law centers/schools. For graduation, there must be satisfactory completion of at least 90 semester hours of professional courses, including required courses, earning a 2.0 cumulative grade point average. Additionally, no student may qualify for the awarding of the Juris Doctor degree who has not acquired a 2.0 average for all required courses. Electives are offered as a part of the curriculum, and students are permitted to take the elective courses specified during the second and third years of school. Each student is responsible for keeping informed of the number of additional credits needed to meet the graduation requirements.

Except as otherwise provided, six full semesters in residence are required for graduation. Any study undertaken in a summer session shall not count toward the satisfaction of the residency requirement.

Students are enrolled as either full-time or part-time. Students enrolled as part-time can enroll as full-time after earning 46 credit hours. A student who wishes to change his/her enrollment status during the academic year must obtain the approval of the vice chancellor for academic affairs and must file a Request for Exception to Academic Policy form (available in the office of records and enrollment). The director of records and enrollment must certify all changes of status. Any student who enrolls in or reduces his or her course load to fewer than 12 hours in a semester is considered a part-time student.

Students may not enroll in more than 16 credit hours per semester without the written approval of the Chancellor or vice chancellor for academic affairs. Students will not be allowed to enroll in more than 18 credit hours per semester.

Residency Requirements

1. All students are required to earn a minimum of six residency units to graduate, except as otherwise provided.
2. A student enrolled in 12 or more hours of course work in a semester who does not reduce his/her course load to fewer than 12 hours in that semester will receive a full-time semester residency credit of one unit. A student can earn only one residency unit per semester, regardless of the number of hours taken.

3. Any student enrolled in eight hours or more, but fewer than 12 hours, in a semester will receive credit for a part-time residency of 3/4 unit. No student may enroll in fewer than eight course hours or reduce his/her course load to fewer than eight hours until after he/she has completed the residency requirement.

4. Law courses taken in a summer session do not count toward satisfying the residency requirement.

5. A student who has earned at least a 3.0 grade point average overall and a 3.0 grade point average in required courses may petition the faculty to graduate after earning five residency credits. A student who wishes to take advantage of this section must formally declare his/her intent in writing to the vice chancellor for academic affairs no later than the last day for adding classes in the semester that he/she is requesting to graduate.

Examinations and Grades- Students Admitted in Fall 2007 and Thereafter

A written final examination is typically given in each course upon its completion to determine the final grade received in each course. Mid-term and other intermediary exams, projects, and assignments at the discretion of the professor may be given for credit not to exceed 25 percent of the student's final grade. The Law Center has determined that a mandatory grading scale will apply to all first year doctrinal courses. The mandatory grading scale is not applicable to skills courses, such as Legal Analysis and Writing or Legal Research. While the grading scale is not mandatory for all other doctrinal courses, it is recommended. Nonetheless, all courses wherein a common exam is utilized to determine a student's final grade, the grading curve will be applicable.

The grading scale is as follows:

96-100	A
(4 quality points)
90-95.....	A-
(3.75 quality points)
87-89	B+
(3.5 quality points)
83-86	B
(3 quality points)
80-82.....	B-
(2.75 quality points)
77-79	C+
(2.5 quality points)
73-76.....	C
(2 quality points)
70-72	C-
(1.75 quality points)
67-69.....	D+
(1.5 quality points)
63-66.....	D
(1 quality point)
60-62	D-
(.75 quality point)
0-59	F
(0 quality points)

Students will take a common exam that will be identical for all students irrespective of the section to which they are assigned in the following courses: Contracts, Torts I, Torts II, Criminal Law, Constitutional Law I, Constitutional Law II, Criminal Procedure, and Evidence. The common exam in a given course will count for up to 50 percent of a student's final grade. The remaining portion of a student's grade will be derived from an assessment, in numerical form, obtained from their respective professor in the course. The professor's assessment will be primarily based upon the student performance on a written final exam. Mid-term and other intermediary exams, projects, and assignments may be given for credit not to exceed 25 percent of the professor's assessment for the student. The professor's assessment will be scaled to the scores earned on the common exam for a given course. The Law Center's administration will calculate the final grades for students in these courses using the mandatory grading scale listed above.

Although the lowest passing grade is "D-," it is regarded as a deficiency, and while the course need not be repeated, it must be offset by quality points obtained in other courses. The grade of "F" indicates failure in the course, and the course, if required for graduation, must be repeated satisfactorily in a subsequent semester. In computing quality points, all courses undertaken are considered, including those that the student failed, even though the course has been repeated.

Review and Appeal

Contact the Office of Enrollment for a copy of established rules regarding Review and Appeal of Grades.

Unavoidable absence from a final examination

A student who does not appear for a scheduled final examination shall receive a failing grade of "F" in the course unless an application for a temporary grade of incomplete ("I" grade) is timely approved by the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. The temporary grade of incomplete is available for only the strongest of reasons, such as serious illness or death in the immediate family, serious personal illness, hospitalization, subpoenaed absence, or military duty.

A student who does not appear for a scheduled final examination, or who knows that he/she will be unable to appear for a final examination, shall follow the procedure below:

1. The student must make a formal request to the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs to receive an "I" grade. The request must include the student's "S" number and email address. Documentation to support the reason for the absence must accompany the request. Documentation from a doctor must be on his/her letterhead and signed by him/her and must state that because of illness or injury the student is unable to take his/her examination and the applicable dates.
2. The Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs will notify the student that his/her request has been approved or denied. He will also notify the Director of Records and Registration, who will notify the affected professors.

3. Students shall not contact professors to schedule makeup examinations. The Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs will consult with professors and arrange for the examinations to be administered. Students who receive accommodations must contact the Vice Chancellor of Academic Support.

4. Students who receive “I” grades in the spring semester, must take make-up examinations no later than the last scheduled examination date in the summer session following the spring semester in which he/she received “I” grades.

5. “I” grades received in the fall semester, must be taken and graded within six weeks after the start of the next regular semester.

6. Two weeks after completing the make-up examination, and allowing some time for the examining professor to grade the examination, the student must check his/her transcript on Banner to verify that the “I” grade has been changed to a letter grade.

7. Absent extraordinary circumstances, should a student fail to timely complete a makeup examination, the temporary incomplete grade will be converted into a grade of “F.”

Failure to complete a final examination

Students who appear for an examination but who are unable to complete the examination due to serious personal illness must contact one of the Vice Chancellors to be excused from the examination. Students excused from an examination shall follow the procedure above to receive and remove a temporary grade of “I” in the course.

The responsibility for administration and periodic review of this policy lies with the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

This policy is effective November 19, 2014.

Failure to complete a final exam

Students who appear for an exam but who are unable to complete the exam due to serious personal illness must contact one of the Vice Chancellors to be excused from the exam. Students excused from an exam should follow the procedure above to receive and remove a temporary grade of “I” in the course.

Withdrawal

If a student withdraws from a course within the time period set for such withdrawal, the student will receive the grade of “W” for the course. If the student withdraws from a course after the time period for withdrawal has expired, the student will receive the grade of “WF.” Forms for withdrawal from the Law Center may be obtained from the Enrollment office.

Computation of Grade Point Average (GPA)

The student’s GPA is computed by including grades earned in both the regular semesters and summer sessions. If the student repeats a course, the grade earned in the course before it was repeated is included.

If the student’s GPA cannot be computed with certainty when these rules are applied, by reason of an instructor’s failure to assign a grade on time, the GPA is computed tentatively by assuming that the outstanding grade is a “C.”

If a student receives the grade of “I” or a grade is missing in a course for other reasons, the student’s grade point average is computed tentatively by assuming that the outstanding grade is a “C.”

Probation, Dismissal, and Maximum Hours First-Year Students

1. A first-year student whose overall grade point average at the end of the first regular semester is less than 1.5 is automatically dismissed.

2. A first-year student whose overall grade point average at the end of the first semester is less than 2.0 is on probation and may not schedule more than 12 hours for full-time students or 8 hours for part-time students.

3. A first-year student whose overall grade point average at the end of the first two regular semesters is less than 2.0 is automatically dismissed.

4. First-year students must have a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better at the end of the first year in order to attend summer school.

Second- and Third-Year Students

1. A second- or third-year student whose overall grade point average after the third regular semester is less than 2.0 is on probation. If the student was on probation in the regular semester immediately preceding, the student is automatically dismissed.

2. A second- or third-year student on probation may not schedule more than 14 hours.

3. A second- or third-year student who receives a grade of “F” in six semester hours of work in any one regular semester is on probation if the student’s overall grade point average is 2.5; if it is less than 2.5, the student is automatically dismissed.

Fresh Start Program

A first-year student whose grade point average is 1.5 – 1.99 after the first semester is eligible to apply for the Fresh Start Program. Applicants for the Fresh Start Program must withdraw from the Law Center and inform the vice chancellor for academic affairs in writing that he/she desires to be considered for the program.

After entering the Fresh Start Program, the student must reapply for admission to the Law Center through the regular admission process. Readmission to the Law Center is not guaranteed to students who select the “Fresh Start” option. When reviewing a “Fresh Start” student’s application for admission, the Admission Committee will consider circumstances that affected the student’s law school performance, whether the circumstances will not generally repeat themselves, and steps the applicant has taken to remove the obstacles that prevented satisfactory performance.

A student that is readmitted under the Fresh Start Program must enroll in an advanced one-week summer academic assistance program that will include instructions in writing, critical thinking, analysis, time management, etc. After successfully completing all of the requirements for the summer program, the Fresh Start student will be enrolled in the first-year class. First semester grades from the previous year will not count against his/her average.

Students with an overall grade point average of 1.8 – 1.99 after the second semester may also apply for the Fresh Start Program. A student who is readmitted under the Fresh Start program will be readmitted as a part-time student and he/she must maintain a 2.0 or above grade point average throughout his/her law school career. The same requirements stated above apply to students who enter the program after the second semester.

A student who is readmitted under the Fresh Start Program must earn a 2.0 grade point average or greater at the end of the first regular semester that he/she is readmitted. A student who fails to earn the required grade point average cannot be considered again for the Fresh Start Program and will not be considered for readmission to the Law Center.

Applications for the Fresh Start Program must be submitted to the vice chancellor for academic affairs no later than spring registration for students choosing the option after the first semester and immediately after grades are submitted for eligible students after the spring semester. The application letter shall explain the reasons for the student's poor performance.

Reinstatement

1. A student who has completed three or more regular semesters of work has the right to petition for reinstatement if the student has earned a grade point average of 2.0 in at least two of the three preceding regular semesters. In the case of successive petitions, the student may petition for reinstatement only if the other conditions in this paragraph are met and the student's semester GPA in the regular semester immediately preceding the petition was 2.0 or better.

2. A student reinstated on petition to the faculty may not schedule more than 14 hours.

Readmission

A student who has been dismissed from the Law Center may apply for readmission as an entering student. Readmission may be conditioned on pursuit of a special program of study. The Law Center requires that a student delay applying for readmission for at least one year, if the student has previously been disqualified for academic reasons. The one-year period begins on the date the original determination to disqualify the student for academic reasons. A student who has been dismissed from a law school other than the Southern University Law Center for academic reasons cannot seek admission to SULC for two years after being academically disqualified from another law school.

Graduation

1. A student whose overall GPA and whose GPA in required courses is 2.0 may graduate. The faculty has discretion to relax the requirement of a GPA of 2.0 in required courses in exceptional cases, on such conditions as it deems appropriate, including the requirement of further study and repetition of designated courses.

2. A student unable to graduate under these rules may petition the faculty for permission to remain enrolled until his or her graduation is approved.

Special Regulations

Full-time Students

The first-year curriculum for full-time students consists of prescribed courses that must be completed in the first year of study. During the second and third years of study, students are permitted to take elective courses.

Law Center courses are not available for auditing. The course schedule for full-time students is designed to require the full working time of the student. Full-time students desiring to engage in personal employment must submit an accurate statement concerning the nature and extent of employment to the Chancellor for approval. If the Chancellor's approval for employment is given, the student may be required to lengthen his period of residence. In no instance will a full-time student's program be scheduled to permit less than twelve hours of classroom work per week.

20-Hour Work Week Policy

First year full-time students are not allowed to work in a job, internal or external to the Law Center, during the academic semester unless the student obtains written permission from the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs.

Full-time students who have completed their first year of study may work no more than 20 hours in a job, internal or external to the Law Center, during the academic semester unless the student obtains written permission from the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs.

Part-time students are not limited in the number of hours that they can work during an academic semester.

Students transferring from part-time to full-time status must declare adherence to this policy when applying for the change in status.

This policy, effective 2015 Spring Semester, will be reviewed by the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs every two years to determine if the policy should be updated.

Part-time Day and Evening Students

A person admitted on a part-time basis must enroll for no less than eight credit hours per semester. A student so admitted shall not be able to graduate in six semesters. Each student enrolled on a part-time basis shall consult with the Law Center administration each semester regarding program of study, residency and all other requirements prior to registration.

Class attendance

Regular class attendance and adequate daily preparation are mandatory for all students. Attendance of 80 percent of the scheduled classes is a prerequisite for credit in a course. Students who do not attend 80 percent of the scheduled classes will be administratively withdrawn from the class and a note will be made on their transcript that the withdrawal was due to excessive absences. Professors have the discretion to create an attendance policy that requires more than 80 percent attendance.

Students Seeking Dual Degree (J.D./M.P.A.)

The J.D./M.P.A. dual-degree program requires 120 hours of academic credit and can be completed in four years. A minimum of 84 hours of law coursework and 36 hours of public administration coursework are required for graduation.

The J.D./M.P.A. program has the following provisions:

1) Each Program candidate must submit a separate application for admission to each school.

2) SULC and the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, in accordance with their own respective admissions policies, must independently admit each candidate for the Dual Degree Program into their respective schools.

3) SULC students may apply to be admitted into the Program during their first year of law school by submitting a statement to the Offices of Records and Registration in both SULC and College of Social and Behavioral Sciences indicating their interest and submitting an application to College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. The statement of interest and the application must be submitted no later than the final date to apply for admission for the next academic term of the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

4) The Dual Degree Program will take four years to complete, including all separate course requirements for both the J.D. and M.P.A. degrees. Students in the dual degree program spend the first year taking law courses at SULC. Students take classes in both SULC and the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences in their second, third and fourth years.

5) Academic standing for a dual-degree candidate is to be determined independently by the respective academic standards of the Law Center and the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. Each academic unit will maintain independent and separate academic records (including courses taken, grades, and grade point averages) for each dual-degree candidate. Exchange of such information between the director of records and enrollment of the Law Center and the University registrar will be required.

6) Candidates who abandon, withdraw or are dismissed from the Dual Degree Program may nonetheless continue to independently pursue a J.D. or M.P.A. degree if said candidates meet the applicable academic requirements and standards independently set and maintained by either school.

7) At the end of the fourth year, students who have earned a minimum of 84 credit hours at SULC and 36 credit hours at the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences and who have satisfied all other requirements for graduation at both schools will be awarded the J.D. degree from SULC and the M.P.A. degree from the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

8) Tuition and fees for students enrolled in the J.D./M.P.A program will be paid to both the Law Center and the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences according to the number of credit hours for which the student is registered on each campus.

Seriousness of Purpose

There is a presumption that every student enrolled in the Southern University Law Center enters with a seriousness of purpose concerning class attendance, preparation, and participation in the academic life of the Law Center. Any student who enters the Law Center without that seriousness of purpose or who fails to maintain it after matriculation will be removed from the student body after proper and due proceedings.

Any student may be dropped from the Law Center for other just cause after notice and hearing.

Admission to the Bar

Students graduating from the Southern University Law Center who wish to become members of the Louisiana State Bar Association must comply with Article XIV, Section 7 of the Articles of Incorporation of the Louisiana State Bar Association, as amended. Under those provisions, graduates of an accredited law center/school are required to take and pass the bar examination in order to practice law in the State of Louisiana.

Every prospective applicant for admission to the Bar of this state who is enrolled in one of the ABA accredited law schools located in this state shall participate in the Law Student Registration Program administered by the National Conference of Bar Examiners (NCBE). Not later than the beginning of the fall semester of the second academic year of law school, each prospective applicant shall submit an application to the NCBE and pay the fee prescribed by it. The NCBE shall conduct an investigation into the applicant's character and fitness and submit to the Committee a preliminary report of its findings.

More information on rules governing admission to practice law in the State of Louisiana may be obtained by contacting the Committee on Bar Admissions, Louisiana State Bar Association, 601 St. Charles Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130-3404. Telephone: (504) 566-1600 or (800) 421-LSBA.

Law students applying for admission to the bar in other states should familiarize themselves with the applicable rules governing bar admission requirements. Many states require students to register with their state board of bar examiners prior to the commencement of legal training.

Student Services & Special Programs

From the moment you begin law school until you secure your diploma at commencement and become an alumnus, the Southern University Law Center provides resources that support your development into a superior legal practitioner. These persons, programs, and activities are part of the life-changing experience you will have at the Law Center.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Office of Student Affairs (OSA) provides comprehensive services that meet the needs of prospective and current students, and alumni regarding all matriculation matters. Because of the Law Center's commitment to admitting a diverse student body, with different socio-economic and educational backgrounds, OSA has adopted policies and services that identify, attract, and serve the broadest prospective applicant pool.

The professionals in this area also recognize the need to maintain admission standards at a level commensurate with the demands of a quality legal education. Working directly with the Chancellor, Vice Chancellors, and law faculty, the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs and office support staff are responsible for maintaining the following:

- Biographical and academic information on matriculating students.
- Activities relating to registration, orientation, courses, exams and course scheduling.
- Grades, degree requirements, enrollment certification, rankings, academic standing, bar certification, and graduation.
- Transcripts, the academic calendar, and statistical and management reports.
- Oversight of student organizations and elections.

- Oversight of student disciplinary matters under the Student Code of conduct. In addition to establishing guidelines, policies, and priorities common to the student affairs area, OSA provides leadership and coordination for student-related matters such as enrollment and conflicts, student elections, academic issues, health insurance, parking, and scheduling of building use for student activities.

The Student Leadership Summit, comprising the presidents of all student organizations and the leadership of the SBA Executive Committee, meets monthly with the associate vice chancellor for student affairs to discuss various issues facing student organizations.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAMS AND ACADEMIC COUNSELING

One of the most comprehensive legal education academic support programs in the country is administered by the Southern University Law Center. The Academic Support Programs' Pre-Law, Academic-Year, and Academic Counseling components facilitate the learning experience of students so they can adjust, succeed, and excel in law school.

The Office of Academic Counseling was established in 1990 for the purpose of addressing principal causes of academic difficulties.

Students are encouraged to discuss with the associate vice chancellor of academic support programs any problems impeding academic success.

The office is staffed by the associate vice chancellor of academic support programs and academic counseling, two academic counselors, an administrative assistant, and 40 second- and third-year students who work as teaching assistants (TAs) for the first-year subjects. The program offers a series of first-year academic sessions during the fall and spring semesters. A schedule for these sessions is posted on the Internet and Law Center bulletin board. In addition, TAs post study materials throughout the semester and have regularly scheduled office hours.

The associate vice chancellor for academic support programs and academic counseling, three tenured professors, the director of legal analysis and writing, two legal writing professors, and six TAs teach in the Summer Pre-law Program. Twenty-five tenured and tenure-track professors and 40 teaching assistants teach in the Academic Year Program. The associate vice chancellor for academic support programs and academic counseling provides program oversight, supervision, and training.

Academic Support Programs are designed to assist students who have not been in an academic setting for a number of years, those making the transition from undergraduate education to professional legal education, and students who have learning or physical disabilities. The programs provide opportunities to analyze and synthesize precedent, interpret statutes, construct policy arguments, and train students to write and speak with clarity and precision.

Academic Support starts building the foundation of knowledge and understanding of the structure and content of the legal system, law school pedagogy, and learning theory through its four-week Summer Pre-Law Program. Through instruction in three substantive courses, students are introduced to the Socratic method as well as to legal skills, emphasizing legal writing and legal analysis through a skills orientation component of the program. Participation is selective.

The Academic Year Program, mandatory for all first-year full-time and evening students, helps students understand doctrines and develop or refine their study and analytical skills. The program consists of weekly sessions of two hours each during the semester.

Emphasis is placed on study techniques, analytical skills, and exam writing. Each session or seminar is designed to help students become independent learners. The substantive law is used as a tool for teaching students how to read and analyze cases, brief cases, organize their notes and briefs, outline, prepare for exams, analyze exam questions, organize exam answers, and write exam answers.

Individual Counseling

The associate vice chancellor for academic support programs and academic counseling assists students in mastering the skills necessary to succeed in law school by identifying causes and attempting to find solutions for academic problems. Once an individual assessment has been made, a specific program of support is offered. Through seminars, workshops, and sessions, the office seeks to increase the success rate by offering methods to improve study skills. The associate vice chancellor for academic support programs and academic counseling communicates formally and informally with faculty on the progress of students.

Confidentiality

It is the policy of the Southern University Law Center that all documentation and conversations are confidential; no information will be released to others without the student's written consent.

Accommodations

Southern University Law Center provides services and accommodations to student with disabilities in accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. If you have any questions or concerns regarding compliance with applicable federal and state laws, you may contact Associate Vice Chancellor Berryl Gordon-Thompson, (225) 771-4913, Office of Academic Support Programs, Southern University Law Center, Post Office Box 9294, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70813.

CLINICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Clinical Education Program provides a unique and meaningful opportunity for students to gain practical experience in the preparation of cases and the representation of clients in court. The program is designed to allow students to apply theoretical knowledge acquired in the classroom to practical courtroom situations.

It is administered under the authority of Rule XX of the Louisiana Supreme Court and the Code of Professional Responsibility. Eligible third-year students represent indigent clients via participation in one of eight clinics: Administrative, Criminal, Disaster Recovery, Divorce and Domestic Violence, Elder, Juvenile, Low Income Tax Law, and Mediation. The program's caseload includes criminal cases (misdemeanors and felonies), Social Security matters, domestic relations, tax disputes, debtor-creditor disputes, juvenile justice, and concerns of the elderly. Student participation in the program encompasses initial interviews with clients through post-sentencing remedies.

Each clinic is supervised by a clinical professor who assists students in perfecting their lawyering skills and increasing their knowledge of the lawyer's function in the legal system. Students desiring to participate in the program must be in good academic standing, receive approval from the Chancellor, and be certified by the Louisiana Supreme Court.

EXTERNSHIPS

Law Center externships provide students with the unique opportunity for practical experience, as well as tutelage by a sitting judge. Ten or more students, officially certified by the Louisiana Supreme Court and sworn in as student attorneys by local judges each semester, join the two-part externship component of the clinical education program, which carries three hours course credit.

Externship sites include a variety of public offices, such as:

Baker City Court
Baton Rouge City Prosecutor's Office
Capital Area Legal Services
Capital Area legal Services, Protective Services Division
East Baton Rouge Parish Clerk of Court
East Baton Rouge Parish Council on Aging
East Baton Rouge Parish District Attorney Office
East Baton Rouge Parish Juvenile Court
East Baton Rouge Parish Office of the Public Defender
Governors Office of Elderly Affairs
State of Louisiana First Circuit Court of Appeal
State of Louisiana Nineteenth Judicial District Court
State of Louisiana Supreme Court
U.S. Department of Education
U.S. Internal Revenue Service
U.S. Tax Court

SIMULATED TRIAL COMPETITION

In the Annual Simulated Trial Competition, third-year students are given an opportunity to prepare a case and case brief as a team, and subsequently present it to the judges' panel for a decision. The teams are responsible for an opening statement, direct and cross exam of witnesses, and a closing statement. All rules pertaining to the simulated jurisdiction are to be followed, essentially putting the students in a real courtroom scene.

CAREER SERVICES

The Office of Career Services offers a variety of services to assist students and alumni in obtaining meaningful employment opportunities. Furthermore, we are constantly exploring new resources to assist our students with their job search efforts. Our goals are to provide the most up-to-date information regarding the job market and assist our students with their individual career development needs.

Beginning in November of the first year of law school, we provide and encourage all students to obtain one-on-one career counseling and to register with the Career Services office. Registration includes résumé and cover letter review and edit, dialogue about the individual student's short-term and long-term goals, and assistance with and direction to various resources aimed at realizing these objectives.

Through individualized counseling, mock interviews and monthly seminars, law students learn many of the skills necessary to help them successfully secure summer clerkships, judicial clerkships, and permanent positions. Some of the seminars and workshops presented each year are Alternative Legal Careers; Career Research Resources available through Lexis Nexis and Westlaw; Dress For Success; Interview Skills; the Benefits of a Judicial Clerkship; Professional Development; Professionalism in the Recruitment Process; Résumé Writing Techniques; Summer Clerkships (Peer Pointers); and Summer Associate 101. At the beginning of each semester, law students are given the opportunity to fine-tune their interview skills by participating in mock interviews conducted by alumni and other local attorneys. In addition, mock interviews are offered during the summer months in an effort to better prepare our students for job fair season, which commences in early August, and fall on-campus recruitment.

The Career Services office is continuing advancement in streamlining the on-campus recruitment process and expanding its network of employers by becoming a licensee of eAttorney (OCI Plus). OCI Plus creates more employment opportunities through eAttorney's exclusive network of 700 law offices and more than 10,000 current job postings. Through eAttorney's network of legal employers, students, and alumni can receive employment solicitations from around the country and search a national job bank 24/7. OCI Plus enables our students to spend more time focusing on the best employment match by remotely centralizing and organizing employer research, interview scheduling, interview sign-ups, résumé distribution, and school and employer communication. OCI Plus makes it easier for employers to select, interview, and employ law students by automating the on-campus registration, résumé collection, prescreening, scheduling, interview communication and callback process. Finally, it also enables this office to schedule more accurately and fairly.

The office maintains a resource center, which we continue to update with books, pamphlets, and videos directed toward résumé and cover letter writing, interview skills and legal career opportunities. The office subscribes to directories that provide students with contact and hiring information of potential employers. The directories available in the office include the various directories published by NALP, the State and Federal Judicial Clerkship Directory, the Public Interest Job Search Guide, the National Job Bank, the Directory of Corporate Counsel, the Lawyer's Register by Specialties and Fields of Law, the State and Local Directory of Government Resources, and more.

The Law Center is a member of the National Association for Legal Career Professionals (formerly National Association for Law Placement) and subscribes to its standards for promoting career planning and development activities.

ALUMNI AFFAIRS

Southern University Law Center alumni have distinguished themselves in the legal profession throughout the country and abroad, holding positions of authority in traditional law firms, government, business, and industry. They are well known for their leadership in public service as judges, elected officials, civil rights leaders and public interest advocates.

Numbering more than 3,500 worldwide, alumni remain involved in the growth and development of the Law Center. The Office of Continuing Legal Education and Alumni Affairs has been instrumental in encouraging alumni mentoring to students on such matters as the bar examination, the law school experience, and attributes of the legal profession. The alumni actively recruit from the student body, providing valuable employment opportunities in law and various legal needs.

Graduates are kept informed of news about the Law Center and other graduates through the publication of the Law Center's award-winning magazine, Reflections, and the weekly electronic newsletter, SULC E-News, as well as the Law Center website and social media.

CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION

The Law Center established the Continuing Legal Education Program for the purpose of offering members of the bar another opportunity to enhance their legal skills and fulfill mandatory continuing legal education requirements. The courses are developed by the Law Center's Continuing Legal Education committee and administered by the director of the program. All courses are fully approved and follow the guidelines set forth by the Louisiana State Bar Association and other state bar associations.

Student Activities & Organizations

Students' individuality, talents, and legal interests are permitted to flourish in a variety of special interest groups. You may join more than a dozen organizations geared to providing a well rounded legal education in and out of the classroom.

NATIONAL BLACK LAW STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Membership in the National Black Law Students Association (NBLSA) is open to all law students who wish to become acquainted with the interests, purposes, and goals of the Association. NBLSA is concerned with the needs and interests of law students, encouragement of professional competence, the relationship between black attorneys and the legal system, and utilizing the skills of black attorneys in dealing with problems of the community.

BUSINESS ENTREPRENEUR LEADERSHIP ASSOCIATION

The SULC chapter of BELA was formed to provide entrepreneurial, real estate, and financial strategies to college and graduate students. BELA is committed to creating a vision where students across academic disciplines will develop teams of trusting business relationships. Upon graduation, these teams use the strategies that they acquire as BELA members to achieve economic and social justice for themselves, their families, and their communities.

BUSINESS LAW SOCIETY (BLS)

The Business Law Society provides a forum to exchange ideas for those interested in business law. It introduces members to practitioners in the field of business law through special events and lectures and provides networking opportunities within the business community. SULC BLS advocates corporate social responsibility, ethical management practices, and community involvement. The organization fosters social interaction for students by sponsoring gatherings and recreational activities.

CHRISTIANS AT LAW SOCIETY

The stated purpose of this voluntary student organization is to provide spiritual guidance and support to its members by promoting understanding, unity and scholarship.

CRIMINAL LAW SOCIETY

The Criminal Law Society's mission is to promote awareness of the various legal and practical avenues of the criminal justice system. The Criminal Law Society invites all students, regardless of an initial interest in pursuing a career in criminal law, to broaden horizons and learn how criminal justice affects future lawyers.

DELTA THETA PHI LAW FRATERNITY

The A. A. Lenoir Senate of Delta Theta Phi law fraternity was chartered in 1971. Delta Theta Phi is a professional organization dedicated to fostering the development and achievements of the legal profession. Its members include many distinguished persons in government, business, international affairs, the judiciary, and in the general practice of law.

Membership in Delta Theta Phi is open to all law students who possess the necessary character to work in support of the purposes of the fraternity. Awards are given each year to student members with demonstrated outstanding academic achievement.

ENVIRONMENTAL LAW SOCIETY

The Environmental Law Society was organized in 1992 to provide Law Center students with information about environmental problems and solutions. The Society invites local, national, and global speakers to the Law Center and coordinates visits to sites of environmental interest. It promotes recycling at the Law Center and encourages participation in essay contests involving environmental issues.

EVENING LAW STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The purpose of this organization is to represent, promote and further the professional, academic and social interests and concerns of evening students, evening alumni and their families; and to increase the awareness, interaction and integration of evening law students with all members of the SULC community and surrounding communities.

FEDERALIST SOCIETY

The Federalist Society was organized in 2007 to promote ideas first enunciated in the Federalist Papers.

GAY ALLIANCE FOR LEGAL EQUALITY (GALE)

The first SULC organization centered around Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) issues in the legal community. Receiving its charter in Spring 2010, GALE was organized to promote equality and diversity among the legal community and raise awareness of LGBT legal issues. A service organization aimed at aiding the LGBT community by volunteering and supporting diversity, GALE strives to enlighten the surrounding community while fostering the student body's interest in maintaining an open mind.

HEALTH LAW SOCIETY

The SULC Health Law Society (HLS) provides a forum for information on and exposure to the many facets and opportunities the health sector has to offer to the student body. The HLS will help educate law students of the variety of job prospects and employment opportunities within the field of health law. Furthermore, the HLS will help bring awareness and keep the student body up to date on health issues facing today's society.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY ASSOCIATION

The Intellectual Property Association provides a forum from which to gain an introduction into the field of Intellectual Property, explore careers and employment opportunities in the area of Intellectual Property, develop academic and nonacademic organizations in the field of Intellectual Property and promote the holistic development of the membership and SULC community as a whole by providing opportunities for both professional and personal growth.

INTERNATIONAL LAW STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The International Law Student Association's mission is to provide individuals with an understanding of the global market that lawyers in practice are faced with in a technologically challenging environment.

JOURNAL OF RACE, GENDER, and POVERTY

The journal is a scholarly periodical that addresses current legal issues impacting gender, race, and poverty.

LATINO LAW STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Latino Law Student Association is to promote the general welfare of its members, to be an effective liaison between its members, the national organization, and the SULC Student Bar Association (SBA), and to sponsor and maintain services and activities that are beneficial to the organization itself, as well as the Law Center's students, faculty, administration and its community.

LAW REVIEW

The Southern University Law Review is a scholarly periodical published semiannually under the auspices of the Southern University Law Center. The journal addresses current legal issues through articles contributed by law professors, legal scholars, and students from Southern University Law Center. The editorial, administrative, and managerial responsibilities are handled by student members of the Law Review staff with guidance from a faculty advisor. Full-time students who complete the first year with at least 29 credit hours and part-time students who complete the second year with at least 44 credit hours and are ranked in the top 7 percent of their class at the end of the Spring semester shall be invited to membership. Students may also gain membership through a write-on competition.

Law Review membership provides a wealth of experience in legal research and writing to eligible students.

LAW STUDENT DIVISION, AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

Any law student attending an ABA-approved law center/school is entitled to become a member of the Law Student Division. The aims of the Division are to further academic excellence through participation by law students in endeavors to formulate and revise legal education standards; to have law students join in efforts to resolve societal problems; to promote the development of leadership programs and activities; to create an awareness of professional responsibilities; and to encourage future lawyers to become involved in activities of the organized bar.

LAW STUDENTS FOR REPRODUCTIVE JUSTICE

Law Students for Reproductive Justice is a student-led, student-driven national non-profit network of law students, professors, and lawyers committed to fostering the next wave of legal experts for the reproductive justice movement. Mobilizing and mentoring new lawyers and scholars is a long-term strategy that will build capacity, vision, and leadership for a more successful movement. The organization educates, organizes, and supports law students to ensure that a new generation of advocates will be prepared to protect and expand reproductive rights as basic civil and human rights.

LOUISIANA ASSOCIATION FOR JUSTICE

Louisiana Association for Justice (LaFJ) is a voluntary bar association whose statewide membership is composed mostly of lawyers in trial practice. The SULC - LaFJ Chapter is a unique opportunity for law students to network with prominent trial attorneys and noted elected officials of Louisiana. The chapter is devoted to introducing student members to members of the Bar and to inform them of developing issues within the legal profession.

MARITIME LAW SOCIETY

Southern University Maritime Law Society (SUMLS) provides law students with access and information regarding the field of maritime and admiralty law. With a holistic perspective, SUMLS promotes and encourages the study and implementation of maritime and admiralty law through meetings, lectures, networking, and on-site visitations.

MOOT COURT BOARD

The Moot Court Board, composed of second- and third-year students, is responsible for planning and conducting the annual Moot Court Competition held each year in the spring semester at the Law Center. The Board is also responsible for selecting the team to compete at the regional Moot Court competition. Only competitors who fall within the 60 percentile of the highest combined scores for oral arguments and brief writing with a cumulative G.P.A. of 2.8 or better will be invited for membership on the Moot Court Board. Participation by students in the Moot Court program enables them to put into practice the theories they have studied in class and to experience an appellate argument under conditions similar to those in an actual court.

NATIONAL LAWYERS GUILD

The Southern University Law Center Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild is dedicated to the support and defense of economic and social justice. Members seek to educate themselves and the community about issues affecting economic and social justice and provide law students with pro bono opportunities in support of progressive change. The Guild seeks to unite the lawyers, law students, and legal workers of America in an organization that functions as an effective political and social force in the service of the people; to the end that economic and social justice are basic human rights, which must be protected and expanded.

PHI ALPHA DELTA LAW FRATERNITY, INTERNATIONAL
Phi Alpha Delta (PAD) is the world's largest professional legal fraternity serving students, the Law Center, and the profession and is dedicated to the ideals of community service. Its goal is to form a strong bond uniting students and teachers of the law with members of the Bench and Bar. The International organization offers professional programs, student loans, job preparation, job placement assistance, insurance programs, a quarterly publication, conventions, awards, and lifetime friendships.

Phi Alpha Delta is open to all students interested in pursuing their leadership and speaking abilities and desiring to excel in the legal profession.

PUBLIC INTEREST LAW SOCIETY

The Public Interest Law Society provides students with a means to get involved with other students who share an interest in providing legal services for those who are traditionally underrepresented. The group seeks to encourage and facilitate activities and the exchange of ideas who promote public service in the legal profession.

REAL ESTATE LAW SOCIETY

The Real Estate Law Society provides its members with opportunities to explore real estate legal interests with practical experiences including interaction with real estate attorneys and other professionals involved in land use, financing, investment, litigation, policy, and development.

SOUTHERN STUDENT ASSOCIATION OF CRIMINAL DEFENSE LAWYERS

An affiliated student chapter of the Louisiana Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, whose purpose is to protect those rights guaranteed by the state and federal constitutions, promoting truth, justice, and the common good.

SOUTHERN STUDENT TRIAL LAWYERS ASSOCIATION

Student trial lawyers provide a venue whereby members are immersed in the art of trial advocacy. Southern Student Trial Lawyers Association's commitment to excellence keeps the membership focused on providing the legal profession highly trained and ethically sound trial lawyers.

SPORTS AND ENTERTAINMENT LEGAL ASSOCIATION

The Sports and Entertainment Legal Association (SELA) was formed in August 1993 to provide an arena of exchange for SULC students and other students at the University who are interested in careers in sports and entertainment law. The organization's objectives include providing a network of information about professional opportunities within sports and entertainment law; forming a liaison between the newly proposed Sports and the Law curriculum at SULC and students; and providing interaction with professionals in various aspects of the sports and entertainment industries.

STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

The Student Bar Association (SBA), an affiliate of the American Law Student Association, is a self-governing organization that receives the full cooperation of the Law Center faculty. Each year, a member of the faculty is appointed to serve as an advisor to assist in coordinating the SBA activities.

Any student in good standing enrolled in the Law Center is eligible for SBA membership. The SBA promotes the general welfare of the student body by encouraging scholastic excellence, as well as, engendering the spirit of cooperation and support among students, faculty, and members of the legal profession.

THURGOOD MARSHALL CLUB

By cultivating the principles of ethics and moral character in its members, the Thurgood Marshall Club increases the possibilities for success for law graduates entering the legal field. Members focus on their professional and social growth in becoming upstanding citizens who accept the challenge to give freely of their time to those in need.

WOMEN IN LAW

Women In Law, a national organization of female attorneys and female law students, is dedicated to providing female law students with a smooth transition from the study of law to the practice of law. The organization's major goal is to serve as a network of support for aspiring female law students in establishing professional contact with female attorneys.

The SULC Chapter of Women in Law was established in the fall of 1984 and strives to ensure academic excellence and political and social involvement of female law students through programs that consider their special needs. Membership in the organization is open to all female law students who are concerned with the advancement of women in the legal profession.

Honor Code

PREAMBLE

The members of the Southern University Law Center community establish this honor code because:

- 1. It is essential to the welfare of the legal profession and the people whom it serves that the integrity of all its members are at all times beyond reproach.
- 2. There is an overriding obligation that one's learning process is conducted in an ethical manner, and this obligation goes beyond purely professional consideration.

THE CODE

1. It is the duty of every student to act honorably in all relations of student life.
2. Lying, cheating, and stealing are specifically condemned.
3. Any action that tends to gain an unfair advantage over other students' academic affairs is prohibited.
4. All scholastic dishonesty is forbidden.
5. Each student has a duty to report any suspected infraction of the honor code.

RULES OF PROCEDURE

I. Jurisdiction

- 1.1 A student is subject to the provisions of the honor code by virtue of matriculation at Southern University Law Center.
- 1.2 This code covers any conduct that directly or indirectly pertains to the student's academic relation with the Law Center.
- 1.3 Sanctions imposed under this code shall be Law Center sanctions exclusively. No university sanction shall be imposed hereunder.
- 1.4 The Honor Code Committee may render advisory opinions to the Chancellor as to whether given conduct is in violation of the code.

II. Organization

- 2.1 The Honor Code Committee of the Law Center shall administer the honor code.
- 2.2 The Honor Code Committee shall possess all powers necessary to properly exercise its jurisdiction and to conduct hearings in a dignified, orderly, and expeditious manner. It may punish, as a violation of the honor code, any unwarranted interference with its exercise of these powers.
- 2.3 The Honor Code Committee shall be composed of eight regular members selected in the spring of each year after the election of Student Bar Association Officers. The Chancellor of the Law Center shall appoint five faculty members to serve one-year terms on the committee. The President of the Student Bar Association shall appoint three students subject to ratification by the Law Center

Faculty. Two of these shall be selected from the then-junior class, and one from the then-freshman class, all for one-year terms.

2.4 The President and the Chancellor shall each appoint, in the same manner as the appointment of regular members, one alternate member each from the then junior class, the then freshman class, and the faculty. In cases of temporary vacancies in the committee, the alternate member shall become the regular member for the unexpired portion of the term and a new alternate shall be appointed.

2.5 It shall be necessary for seven members of the committee (either regular members or their alternates) to be present and participate to constitute a quorum.

2.6 The Honor Code Committee shall select from its membership a chairman.

2.7 There shall also be an Investigatory Committee, composed of six members, four faculty and two students. They shall be appointed at the same time as the members of the Honor Code Committee and in conformance with the provisions of 2.3 above.

2.8 The Investigatory Committee shall elect from its membership a permanent chairman who shall apportion the investigations among the members of the committee.

III. Initiation of Proceedings

3.1 Proceedings under this code shall be instituted by the submission to the Investigatory Committee of a written statement by any student, faculty member, or Chancellor alleging that he or she has reason to believe that a violation of the honor code has occurred. A member of the Investigatory Committee may file such a statement on his or her own initiative. The Honor Code Committee shall notify the Chancellor of all investigative procedures and of all proceedings before it.

3.2 A violation must be reported within 30 days after the final day of examinations for the semester in which it occurred, unless it was a violation as to be undiscoverable until a later date. In the latter case, the report must be filed within 30 days after the final day of examinations of the semester in which the violation was discovered. In no case shall prosecution under this code be commenced if these time limitations are not strictly observed.

3.3 The chairman of the Investigatory Committee shall appoint one or more investigators to conduct a preliminary investigation of the alleged violation to determine if there is probable cause sufficient to warrant a hearing. The chairman shall be given the principal responsibility for the investigation with whatever assistance is deemed necessary.

3.4 If the investigator(s) find probable cause, they shall, within a reasonable time from receipt of the complaint, give written notice to the accused, such notice containing the date and nature of the alleged offense and a brief summary of the evidence. In addition, the accused shall be given a copy of these rules of procedure.

3.5 The investigator(s) shall contact the Chancellor of the Law Center to inform him of the charge as soon as probable cause has been determined. The Chancellor and the investigator(s) shall hold a preliminary meeting if (a) there is a need for immediate temporary action by the Chancellor pending the holding of a hearing or (b) there are questions of law upon which the investigator(s) desire the Chancellor's advice.

3.6 If the accused admits the violation, the Chancellor may suspend the accused temporarily or take whatever other disciplinary action he deems necessary, after consultation with the investigator(s). Such action shall not be held to prejudge any question to be determined by the Honor Code Committee, nor shall it preclude them from making any finding that otherwise would be proper.

3.7 As soon as probable cause has been determined, the investigator(s) shall meet with the chairman of the Honor Code Committee to set a date for the hearing. Written notice of the date of the hearing shall then be given to the accused by the investigator(s).

3.8 The hearing shall commence not less than three nor more than 15 days, exclusive of examination periods, from the date on which notice is given to the accused. By mutual agreement, the investigator(s) and the accused may postpone the hearing for a reasonable period beyond the above limits.

3.9 The investigator(s) shall contact the accused at least two days prior to the hearing to receive his or her plea of guilty or not guilty, and to discuss any matters upon which agreement would expedite the hearing and help secure the ends of justice. At this time the accused shall give the investigator(s) the names of all persons providing legal assistance, including retained counsel, if any.

3.10 The investigator(s) may, after consultation with the chancellor, obtain the assistance of a member of the Louisiana State Bar Association in conducting the hearing. This should be done only in those cases where it is necessary for the orderly administration of justice.

IV. Hearing

4.1 The hearing shall be closed to the public.

4.2 The hearing shall be conducted with as much informality as is consistent with the purpose of the inquiry. Formal rules of evidence and procedure shall not apply.

4.3 The accused in conducting a defense shall have the right to the assistance of any person, including retained counsel. He or she shall further have the right to confront the accuser and the witnesses and to cross-examine these persons. The accused shall be accorded the right to remain silent, and no adverse inference shall be drawn therefrom. The accused shall be presumed innocent until guilt is proven.

4.4 Should the accused, after notification of the charges and date, time, and location of the hearing, willfully fail to appear at the hearing, the Honor Code Committee may proceed in his or her absence. In such cases, he or she shall be deemed to have waived the right to present a defense to the charges, but this shall not be the equivalent of a guilty plea.

4.5 The proceeding shall be bifurcated as to (a) the guilt or innocence of the accused and (b) the sanctions to be imposed.

4.6 The chairman shall arrange for the hearing to be recorded in its entirety upon the request of the accused. However, the proceeding shall not be delayed pending receipt of the transcript.

4.7 The suggested order of the hearing is:

(a) Reading of the charge against the accused.

(b) The accused's plea of "guilty" or "not guilty." If the plea is "guilty," steps (c) through (k) shall be omitted.

(c) A general statement of the facts and evidence by the investigator(s).

(d) A reply, if desired, by the accused, his or her counsel, or anyone assisting the accused in the defense.

(e) A presentation of the evidence by the investigator(s). The accused shall be allowed to cross-examine any witness presented by the investigator(s). The Honor Code Committee members may question any witness after the accused and the investigator(s) have completed their questioning.

(f) Presentations of any evidence that the accused desires to bring the attention of the committee. The investigator(s) and the committee have the right to question the witnesses as above.

(g) At the discretion of the chairman, the investigator(s) may be given the opportunity to present further evidence, including recall of previous witnesses.

(h) The investigator(s)' summation of the evidence.

(i) A reply, if desired, by the accused, his or her counsel, or anyone assisting the accused in the defense.

(j) Secret deliberations of the Honor Code Committee on the question of guilt or innocence of the accused.

(k) Announcement of the verdict of the committee. The verdict shall be "guilty" or "not guilty."

(l) If the verdict is "guilty" or the accused has entered a plea of "guilty," he or she shall be allowed to make a statement or to present evidence to the committee relating to mitigating circumstances. In so doing, the procedures of sections (e) and (f) are to be followed, with the accused presenting his or her evidence first and the investigator(s) following.

(m) The accused may make a final statement to the committee.

(n) The committee shall then, in secret session, determine the appropriate sanction.

(o) The secrecy provided herein shall not extend to court proceedings.

4.8 A verdict of “guilty” shall be concurred in by at least five of the seven committee members participating in the hearing. If after sufficient deliberation a “guilty” verdict has not been reached, the verdict shall be “not guilty” or the committee may require further investigation.

4.9 Any sanction from oral admonition to expulsion from the Law Center may be selected. The sanction must be approved by a majority of the committee members participating in the hearing.

4.10 The committee shall notify the accused of the sanctions as soon as possible after a decision is reached.

4.11 Within a reasonable time after completion of the hearing, exclusive of weekends or holidays, the Honor Code Committee shall submit to the Chancellor of the Law Center a written opinion and physical evidence.

4.12 If the verdict is “guilty,” the chairman shall ensure that the record of the hearing is retained for one year after the final decision is reached. It shall be dated and placed in the safe in the Office of Admission and Records. If a decision of “not guilty” is reached, the record shall be destroyed one year after the date of decision.

V. Sanctions

5.1 Sanctions other than oral admonition by the Honor Code Committee may be implemented only by action of the Chancellor. Oral admonition may be implemented by the Honor Code Committee subject to the provisions of 6.3 below.

5.2 Sanctions that may be determined by the Honor Code Committee include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following, which are set forth in descending order of severity:

- (a) Expulsion from the Law Center;
- (b) Suspension from the Law Center for one or more semesters;
- (c) A grade of “F” in any course to which the offense pertains;
- (d) Withdrawal of credit in a course;
- (e) Lowering of grade in any course to which the offense pertains;
- (f) Suspension from one or more courses, for any period or suspension from the Law Center for less than a semester.
- (g) A retake of an examination in a course, or the doing or repetition of any work less than the entire course in such a manner and subject to such conditions as the committee shall determine;

tion of any work less than the entire course in such a manner and subject to such conditions as the committee shall determine;

(h) Probation;

(i) A written reprimand;

(j) Admonition, either oral or written.

VI. Appeal

6.1 A verdict of “not guilty” is final and not reviewable.

6.2 A verdict of “guilty” may be appealed to the Chancellor of the Law Center, who may order a reconsideration by the committee.

6.3 The committee’s findings, both as to guilt and sanction, shall become final when approved by the Chancellor.

VII. Miscellaneous Provisions

7.1 Words and phrases are to be read in their context and are to be construed according to the common and approved usage of the language.

7.2 The word “shall” is mandatory; the word “may” is permissive.

7.3 These rules, together with the honor code, shall be effective from the date on which they are ratified by: (1) a majority of the members voting at a student vote called for this occasion; (2) the Chancellor of the Law Center; and (3) the faculty of the Law Center. Amendments hereto and to the honor code shall be effective once they are similarly approved.

VIII. Exclusions

8.1 Nothing contained herein shall preclude:

(a) The administration, law faculty or individual instructors from establishing and enforcing rules pertaining to the administration of exams, the promotion of academic performance, or the maintenance of classroom decorum;

(b) The establishment and enforcement by the individual instructor of rules pertaining to methodology used in classroom;

(c) The use of authority by the instructor to do those things believed to be necessary to fulfill responsibility in the classroom, including devices to promote effective class participation, to prevent disturbance of the classroom situation, and to assure punctual as well as regular class attendance.
